President to Meet With Ky Sunday Before Visit With Pope Paul in Rome

PARIS (AP) — President Nixon and President Charles de Gaulle conferred for 90 minutes today in the guarded splendor of the Trianon Palace in suburban Versailles, their second day of talks that Nixon hoped would diminish differences between the United States and France.

Only interpreters were with the two presidents for that session in De Gaulle's palace office. Spokesmen would reveal nothing of what was said, although French spokesman Roger Vaurs said he assumed the tone and atmosphere were "as cordial as yesterday."

While De Gaulle and Nixon conferred, White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler announced the U.S. President will meet Sunday with Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam, before he departs for Rome to meet Pope Paul VI.

War on Agenda

Thus as Nixon neared the end of his eight-day trip across Western Europe, the war in Southeast Asia was on his agenda.

U.S. policy in Vietnam has been a troublesome issue in relations with De Gaulle. European suspicion that the United States is preoccupied with Vietnam and has not been sufficiently attentive to allies in Europe is one of the problems Nixon set out to ease.

Ziegler said Nixon would see Ky after conferring at the U.S. Embassy with Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. negotiator at the Vietnam peace talks, and with other members of the negotiating team. Ky returned from Saigon Monday.

Nixon had indicated before leaving Washington that if Lodge thought it appropriate, he would see Ky while in Paris.

'Opinion Not Enough'

Shaw Unanimously Cleared Of Assassination Conspiracy

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A jury's unanimous verdict of innocent today cleared Clay L. Shaw, 55, of a charge of conspiring to assassinate President John F. Kennedy.

Read to a packed, heavily guarded Criminal District Court at 1:02 a.m., the verdict triggered a moment of bedlam. There was an earsplitting concerted shriek from the women spectators.

The 12-man jury rejected both the state case and Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's plea that a conviction would strike a blow at "excessive government power."

"Garrison has a right to his opinion about the government and the Warren Commission," said juror David I. Powe shortly after court adjourned. "But I just don't feel his opinion is enough to convict a man."

Shaw, a 6-foot-4 retired New Orleans businessman with tanned and craggy features, stood in a protective circle of deputies as the verdict was read.

"Do you wish the jury polled?" asked Judge Edward A. Haggerty.

Asst. Dist. Atty. James L. Alcock, who headed Garrison's team of prosecutors, slumped low in his chair. He shook his head wearily, side to side.

Powe, a juror who grew a goatee while sequestered during the 34-day trial, said the verdict was unanimous and was reached on the first ballot taken in the bleak little room behind the courtroom.

Deliberation took about 50 minutes. Shaw was cleared two years to the day from the date he was arrested—March 1, 1967.

The state charged Shaw with conspiring with Lee Harvey Oswald and others to murder Kennedy, who was slain in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963. The Warren Commission named Oswald as the assassin.

Much of the prosecution case concentrated on attacking the commission's conclusion that Oswald, a former New Orleans resident, was alone and unaided in the assassination.

Garrison Absent

Garrison, up for re-election in six months, was not in the courtroom when the verdict was read. He appeared rarely during the trial, leaving the case to four assistants.

In final arguments, he left the oratory on legal detail and testimony to the assistants—but made an emotional appeal in the final minutes, attacking the Warren Commission.

"The government handling of the investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy was a fraud," he said, "probably the greatest fraud perpetrated in the history of mankind."

The Warren Commission, he said, was a group of "men of high position and prestige sitting on a board and telling you what happened but withholding the evidence . . .

"You can cause justice to happen in this case for the first time in five years," he concluded, "and if you do that, nothing you have ever done will have been more important.

Defense lawyer F. Irvin Dymond said Shaw was "a patsy picked . . . to provide a forum for an attack on the Warren Commission."

Nothing had been proven, he said, since the state's entire case rested on the testimony of Perry Raymond Russo, and he said the defense had shown "Perry Raymond Russo is a liar."

Dymond examined the sttae's case step by step, applying what he called plain logic. "It just doesn't add up," he said.

Haggerty held the court in session until the jurors got out. Shaw stood, smiling broadly and shook each juror's hand as they filed past.

Clay Shaw has been found innocent of conspiring to kill President Kennedy. The jury in New Orleans deliberated for 54 minutes before pronouncing its decision early this morning. (AP Wirephoto)

East Germans Close Autobahn to End 'Unlawful Military Activity,' Reopens It

BERLIN (AP) — East German soldiers armed with submachine guns blocked the main autobahn between West Germany and West Berlin for two hours today, then reopened it.

The closure followed a Soviet announcement backing "necessary measures to cut short the unlawful militaristic activities" in West Berlin and an accusation from Moscow that Western air links to the isolated city were being used illegally.

It apparently signaled the start of maneuvers by Soviet and East German Warsaw Pact forces. The maneuvers in East Germany have been scheduled to start around the same time as West Germany's March 5 presidential election in West Berlin. They are generally regarded as another Communist harassment tactic to hinder access to West Berlin for the election, which the Soviets and East Germans have denounced as a "provocation."

Long Delays

Before the autobahn was closed travelers arriving in West Berlin reported six-hour delays on the 110-mile trip from the West German border. They said they saw troops, trucks and other military equipment moving on the autobahn.

It also was reported that Marshal Ivan I. Yakubovsky, supreme commander of Warsaw Pact forces, flew to East Berlin Friday to confer with East German President Walter Ulbricht.

West German border officials said the East Germans threw red and white portable iron fences across the autobahn access and exit at Marienborn, opposite the West German border checkpoint at Helstedt, at 7 a.m. They were removed at 9 a.m. and Helmstedt officials said western traffic began to move again.

More Maneuvers

The East Germans already have barred West German presidential electors and members of the West German armed forces from surface travel through East Germany to West Berlin. Western officials had suspected the maneuvers would further hamper road access.

But they also voiced the fear that the maneuvers might precipitate an even graver crisis if the Soviets and East Germans indulge in large-scale aerial formations near or in the air corridors to West Berlin. Neither the Soviet Union nor East Germany has indicated whether aircraft will be used.

The Western allies who administer West Berlin under postwar agreements—the United States, Britain and France—are committed to keeping these air corridors open, since the Communists control surface access to the city. The allies regard the city as part of West Germany which the Soviets dispute.

On Friday the Soviet Union officially charged that West Germany was "secretly transporting" military goods from West Berlin by road. Today the official Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda went one step further, charging the air routes also are being used for such shipments.

Pravda did not threaten any Communist action against the air routes into West Berlin, but "called attention" to "unlawful uses" of them.

The note accused West Germany of unlawfully recruiting West Berliners to serve in the federal army and added that 'dozens' of West Berlin firms produced military and other strategic material and "secretly transported" it through East Germany to the West.

West Germany said the Soviet charges "lack any legal or factual basis." It said the note was an excuse "to awaken new tensions."

In Washington, Elliot Richardson, called in Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin to tell him there was no foundation to Moscow's allegations.

Richardson acting for Secretary of State William P. Rogers who is with President Nixon in Europe, instead charged East Berlin authorities with violating four-power agreements by permitting East German military traffic in the Soviet zone of Berlin.

On Friday, West Berlin Mayor Klaus Schuetz announced the presidential election would be held in West Berlin despite all protests.

Pneumonia Leaves Ike Very Weak

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower remained "very weak" from the pneumonia that has complicated his recovery from surgery and a series of heart attacks, it was announced today.

Doctors at Walter Reed Army Hospital said the 78-year-old Eisenhower "rested well last night but still remains very weak."

They reported "no further progression of the pneumonia" in the base of the five-star general's right lung. And they said his "cardiovascular status remains stable."

The pneumonia, doctors had said Friday, was increasing the strain on Eisenhower's heart. He has a history of seven heart attacks.

Doctors also reported they had removed the tube through Eisenhower's nose into his lungs that had been used to supply him with oxygen, "and he is being given small amounts of liquids by mouth today."

The doctors reported Friday Eisenhower's heart was under "considerable" strain from the pneumonia that apparently developed Thursday night.

A high-ranking Walter Reed officer said the general remains "in a serious condition" and still is in the critical period following Sunday night's surgery to remove an intestinal obstruction.

But he said none of the Eisenhower family has been summoned to the general's bedside although his wife, Mamie, has been staying in an adjacent suite.

Relations With U. S.

Revolutionary Peru Government Splits

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A split in Peru's five-month-old revolutionary government appeared today to augur a further deterioration in the nation's already-strained relations with the United States.

The split surfaced Friday with the resignation of Finance Minister Angel Valdivia from the cabinet of generals. Reports circulated in the capital that Development Minister Alberto Maldonado and perhaps the directors of the state oil agency also were on their way out.

A U.S. Embassy official expressed dismay at the resignation of Valdivia, generally regarded as the most moderate and pro-American member of the military regime. His departure is likely to result in a further hardening of the Peruvian position in the International Petroleum Co. controversy, the official said.

IPC, a Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey subsidiary, was expropriated by the government last October and has since been taken over by the state oil agency, Empresa Petrolera Fiscal (EPF).

President Juan Velasco has said that the expropriation and EPF takeover were solely internal affairs dealing with the settlement of an IPC debt. But Washington has threatened to cut off economic and military aid to Peru and halt purchases of Peruvian sugar if the Lima government refuses to compensate IPC.

Valdivia's moderating influence also may be missed when the government considers its reply to a U.S. demand for $50,000 damages inflicted on an American fishing boat by a Peruvian torpedo boat Feb. 14. One American craft was temporarily seized by Peru and another was hit by machine-gun fire during the incident.

The government is expected to consider the demand at a Cabinet meeting Tuesday, the day Prime Minister Ernesto Montagne says he will take up the matter of Valdivia's resignation.

Doctors Okay Apollo Flight

Astronauts' Colds 'Much Improved,' Launch on Monday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Doctors pronounced the cold-bothered Apollo 9 astronauts "much improved" today and gave the go-ahead to proceed with plans for a Monday launching.

After an extensive medical examination, Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief astronaut physician, said that Air Force Col. David R. Scott was "clear"—over his cold.

Berry said Air Force Col. James A. McDivitt and civilian Russell Schweickart were much better. All three were taken off medication, but McDivitt and Schweickart continued to take Vitamin C and to gargle with hot salt water to relive their sore throats.

Well Rested

The spacemen were well rested after a good night's sleep. After awakening at 7 a.m., Schweickart and Scott each jogged a mile and McDivitt worked out in a gymnasium in the crew quarters.

The astronauts were feeling so good they decided to rehearse for a few hours in a spacecraft trainer. Originally they had planned to spend the day relaxing in their quarters.

The doctors said another physical examination was planned Sunday morning but they felt the astronauts would be well enough to rocket into space Monday after a three-day postponement.

Launch crews continued to ready the giant Saturn 5 rocket and spacecraft for the new launch time of 11 a.m. Monday.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, the space agency's director of medical operations, reported Friday night "the congestion and sore throats appear to be subsiding."

Berry, who long has argued that spacemen are overworked in the final weeks before a launching, ordered the weekend of rest for McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart.

"They're going to be the most well rested men we've ever sent up," Berry said.

Apollo 9 Mission Director George Hage said the crew training schedule probably would be modified for upcoming Apollo flights, which will become more demanding as the planned July moon landing date nears.

Favor Funds Transfer

Assembly for More Funds for Schools

MADISON (AP) — Over protests of minority Democrats, Republicans in the Wisconsin Assembly have moved quickly to head off what they call a threatened financial crisis for public schools.

The Assembly completed action Friday on a measure to transfer $20.5 million from various state agencies, including state universities, for distribution as school aids.

Another $1.5 million would be shifted into the depleted veterans' loan program.

The measure was forwarded to the GOP-controlled Senate where speedy action is expected next week.

Assembly Democrats vigorously opposed the bill, declaring it amounted to "piecemeal stealing." They said it would take funds away from poverty programs.

Investigate Universities

The Legislature, in other action during the week, passed a a joint resolution setting up a committee to investigate public universities.

The measure, drafted by Sen. Gordon Roseleip, R-Darlington, was in the works several weeks ago, but gained a sudden head of steam after recent disorders at the University of Wisconsin.

Another university proposal was returned to the Senate by the Assembly for action on an Assembly amendment. The bill would cut off state aid to students convicted of participating in violent campus disorders.

Bonding Question

The Legislature endorsed a resolution to ask voters in the April election whether they favor bond issues for outdoor recreation and water pollution programs.

The question concerning bonding is designed to measure voter reaction to the proposed expansion of the Outdoor Recreation Act Program, lately ORAP 200.

He would have the state adopt a $200 million conservation bonding issue.

Under the proposal, $144 million would go to finance water pollution abatement projects, and $56 million would go for outdoor recreation.

Although several legislators expressed concern about the eventual cost of the long term interest—estimated by some as high as $220 million—the measure gained speedy passage in both houses.

The Legislature also gave final endorsement to an advisory referendum asking voters if they want the state to assume most of the cost of vocational, technical and adult education schools.

Beauty Pays

WASHINGTON (AP) — While most federal departments want more and more money every year, at least one arm of government is operating in the black—the House Beauty Shop.

The shop was a hot item about 14 months ago when a running feud developed between members and the shop's operator who paid no rent, got free towels and utilities and was allowed to pocket everything she made.

Mrs. Abel Solomon suddenly pulled out her equipment and supplies in December 1967 when her desire to pick her own successor and sell the goodwill she built up over 30 years was opposed.

3-Woman Committee

It took only about a week before the House named a three-woman committee, kicked in $15,000 from the contingency fund and had a shop of its own in gear.

"We've got to have a beauty shop. Without it there would be a revolution," said Speaker John W. McCormack.

Before Congress quit last year, the operation returned $7,500 of the initial investment.

The same three members—Chairman Martha Griffiths, D-Mich., and Reps. Edith Green, D-Ore., and Catherine May, R-Wash.—were named to the special committee in this Congress.

They now have a new shop, with new equipment, in the basement of the Cannon Office Building. It was opened late last year.

"It is strictly self supporting," Mrs. May said. "We'll be paying back money on an annual basis. We can't say how much it will be each year but it will be a plus instead of a subsidy like it was in the past."

Anyone can be served at the facilities but most customers are women members and congressional secretaries.

There is a salaried manager and the employes work on a percentage arrangement.

Madison Topless Dancers Rebel at Ban on Bosoms

MADISON (AP) — Six go-go dancers, insisting on the right to perform topless, demonstrated Friday in the protest-populated streets of Madison—wearing coats as protection against the weather.

The dancers, clad in bikini-like costumes under their coats, marched to police heaquarters to protest a city council decision that women performers' bosoms must be satisfactorily covered.

The march was led by tavern operator Al Reichenberger, who said the council regulation has thrown a shroud over the pace of nighttime activity.

"Business had dropped off," he said. "At lot of our customers are complaining about the new, less-revealing costumes."

In an effort to show he runs a legitimate business, Reichenberger presented police with a pile of what he called false identification cards he said he had confiscated from young persons trying to get in his establishment.

LITTLE CHUTE — Brillion and Little Chute advanced to the WIAA district championship game at 7:30 tonight as each posted convincing wins in their initial encounters here Friday evening. The Lions made easy prey of Stockbridge, 88-50, and the Mustangs thrashed Hilbert, 61-36.

The Chuters, in recording their first tournament decision in the school's brief history, roared to a 16-3 advantage after one period, before the Wolves caught fire and narrowed the halftime gap to 20-17.

Steve Mollen's four buckets in the opening frame accounted for half of Little Chute's output, while Mike Fitzpatrick and Bob Hackel did the rest with two goals each.

Hilbert, led by John Palmbach with eight markers, outscored the Mustangs, 14-4, in the second segment and Terry Schwalenberg's fielder, at the outset of the next canto pulled the wolves to within a lone tally at 20-19

13 Straight Points

The hosts then strung together 13 straight points, six by Mike Fitzpatrick, to soar well out of range at 33-19. By quarter's end, the Chuters led, 39-22, and then dominated the closing stanza in notching 22 tallies to Hilbert's 14.

Mike Fitzpatrick paced the Mustangs scoring with 21 markers, followed by Mollen and Hackel with 12 and nine, respectively. Palmbach topped the losers with 12 points.

Brillion's rangy unit had an even easier time in swamping Stockbridge as the Lions roared to a 48-21 halftime lead and coasted the rest of the way.

Russ Hansen, the Little Nine Conference's scoring leader, meshed 20 points to spark the Brillion attack, while Dick Klein and Bill Grassell contributed 14 tallies each.

The Indians' Dan Hemauer took scoring honors for the night in netting 26 of Stockbridge's 50-point total.

St. Catherine Tips Cadets

Roncalli Now Faces Don Bosco Following Win Over Eau Claire

MILWAUKEE (AP)— Defending champion Milwaukee Messmer faced the unenviable task tonight of trying to derail top-rated Racine St Catherine in the seminfials of the 40th annual WISAA state basketball tournament.

The two parochial powers clash at 9 p m following a 7.30 p m semifinal that pits Manitowoc Roncalli against Milwaukee Don Bosco.

In consolation games this afternoon, Eau Claire Regis opposed Stevens Point Pacelli at 2 p.m and Beloit Catholic took on Green Bay Premontre at 3:30.

Scored 38 Points

Jim Chones, a 6-foot-10½ center, scored 38 points and hauled in 27 rebounds to lead St Catherine to a 69-51 victory over Premontre Friday to open the eight-team, three-day tourney.

In other first-round games, Messmer topped Beloit Catholic 85-72, Roncalli clipped Regis 77-61 and Don Bosco crushed Pacelli 77-41.

Despite Chones' heroics, it took a fourth-quarter shooting exhibition by Paul Matsen to treak open a close game with Premontre.

"We weren't doing too well," said St. Catherine Coach John McGuire, "so we went back to one of the basics of basketball—'get the ball to the big man.'"

The angels did exactly that and Chones' 38-point explosion fell just six ponits short of the tourney record of 44, set in 1952 by Dan Gunderman of Milwaukee Cathedral

His 27 rebounds were two off the record set by Dick Reynolds of Madison Edgewood in 1966

One Short of Mark

Also close to a record was St Catherine's Rick Pettti, who handed out 11 assists, just one short of the record posted by Bob Lombardo of Madison Edgewood in 1963

Premontre battled the Angels evenly through most of the game, and the score was tied at 48-48 with 4:09 left in the final period when Matsen pumped in three straight short jumpers and Chones tallied two field goals The Cadets were limited to only three free throws after the deadlock.

Messmer had a much easier time of it, although the Bishops had to work hard for the victory Beloit Catholic, appearing extremely nervous and tight, fell behind early as Mike Messmann led Messmer to a 17-11 first quarter lead

Built up Lead

The Crusaders hung tight, however, as Tim Meyers repeatedly worked free underneath to cut Messmer's lead to four points, 34-30, shortly before intermission.

With Mike Van Ert and Bill Blattnig finding the range on 20-foot jump shots, Messmer built its lead to 10 points by halftime and Beloit Catholic could get no closer Blattnig wound up with 28 points and Van Ert had 19 for Messmer The Crusaders were led by Meyers with 28.

Tom Dodge scored 24 points to lead Manitowoc Roncalli to its hard-fought victory over Eau Claire Regis. While Dodge did most of his damage in the first half, Bob De Roche and Larry Paulow kept the Regis Ramblers at bay in the final two periods

Regis had four players in double figures, with Tom McSorley leading the way with 16.

Dan Bosco, down 13-11 at the end of the first quarter, outscored Pacelli 29 to 4 in the second stanza in its opening game romp

Pacelli's only points in its ill-rated quarter came on a field goal by Felix Rajkowski and two free throws by Tom Frymark

The Dons were paced by Jerry Radomski, who finished with 21 points, and Gary Sager, with 19 Frymark and Paul Worzella had 11 points a piece for Pacelli.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Junior left wing Dave Perrio scored four goals Friday night leading Michigan to an 8-5 hockey victory over Wisconsin.

Perrin scored once in the first period, twice in the second and again in the fourth as the Wolverines raced to a 7-1 lead.

Wisconsin had a four-goal rally in the final period, but Michigan scored another goal after the flurry and held fast.

Wisconsin is now 21-9-2 overall and 5-4 in the conference. Michigan is in first place in the Big Ten with a 6-4-0 mark. The Wolverines are 14-11 over-all.

76ers Halt Bucks' String

Cunningham Hits 38 in 123-102 Victory in NBA

BOSTON (AP) — The Philadelphia 76ers ended the Milwaukee Bucks' victory string Friday night 123-102 in the first game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Billy Cunningham scored 38 points to pace Philadelphia, and Hal Greer added 25.

High for Milwaukee was Jon McGlocklin with 27.

The 76ers moved out to a 60-49 halftime advantage, then staved off all comeback attempts by the Eastern Division cellar-dwellers.

The closest Milwaukee could come was eight points with 4:41 left in the game, but Cunningham led Philadelphia on another point-spree and the Bucks were down by 16 within two minutes.

Milwaukee had won six games in a row, an NBA record for an expansion club, before Friday night's loss.

Promises 'Crash Program'

Hirsch Accepts Post at UW

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch accepted the job as athletic director at the University of Wisconsin Friday, then promised a "crash program" to rebuild the school's sagging football fortunes.

Hirsch, a former football star with Wisconsin and the Los Angeles Rams, said major changes would be made in the Athletic Department of the Madison school

"I'm not here to win a popularity contest," he said. "We're going to have the best people at the right spots "

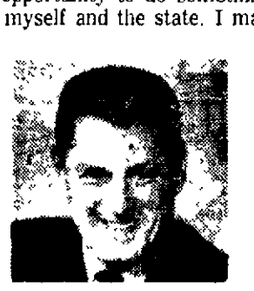
He succeeds the late Ivan B. Williamson, and took over the post today

"We'll start immediately and get the show on the road," Hirsch said.

Subsequent Term

Hirsch's contract includes five years as athletic director, plus a subsequent five-year term either as athletic director or in a "mutually acceptable role."

To take the Wisconsin post, Hirsch left what he called a "lifetime job" as assistant to Rams' President Danial Reeves



Elroy Hirsch

He said he had "security and a good job, but it was like treading water."

"I love the Rams," Hirsch said. "But I thought that this was an opportunity to do something for myself and the state. I may never have another chance like this in my life."

In Los Angeles, Reeves described Hirsch as "a talented and fine executive, and an even finer person."

"Elroy spent almost 20 years as a member of this organization," Reeves said, "and he will be taking part of the Rams with him to Wisconsin."

Status Sagged

Wisconsin's football status has sagged tremendously in the last several years. In the last two seasons, the Badgers have lost 19 and tied one without a victory.

Hirsch starred at Wisconsin as a breakway halfback in 1942, leading the Badgers to an 8-1-1 record. The following year, as a Marine trainee, he was on Michigan's Big 10 co-championship team.

After World War II, he joined the Chicago Rockets of the old All - America Conference, but gained his greatest pro fame as an end for the Los Angeles Rams He is a member of Pro Football's Hall of Fame.

Both Hirsch and his wife, Ruth are natives of Wisconsin.

When Dr Fred Haberman, chairman of the Wisconsin Athletic Board, said he had a two-inch - thick file of letters wanting Hirsch as athletic director, including a petition with 55 names, Hirsch said: "I have 55 in-laws in the state "

He said he had a meeting scheduled early today with Tim Healy, an Associated Press all-state quarterback and defensive back from Madison East.

Hirsch also said he was to confer today with football Coach John Coatta "to find out what his needs are."

Rockets Overcome Deficit To Defeat Bluejays, 70-54

Neenah '5' Trails by 6 At Halftime

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — Confronted by a 6-point halftime deficit, Neenah High School took advantage of a bushel of Menasha turnovers in the third quarter to defeat the bluejays, 70-54, in a WIAA district playoff game here Friday night.

The Rockets thus qualified for their own regional next weekend along with winners of tonight's games matching Omro-Winneconne, GreenLake-Montello and Fond du Lac-Oshkosh.

The fired-up Bluejays controlled the game most of the first half and were on top, 30-24, at the intermission. Their margins reached nine points at times and it took Tom Kopitzke's basket and free throw in the last half minute of the second stanza to reduce the difference to six at the midway juncture.

Buckling under the Rockets' persistent pressure defense, the Menashans were guilty of five errors in the first 1:50 of the third period and the mentum began to swing heavily in the victors' favor.

The Jays had forced their cross-town rivals to play their game in the first half out now it was the visitors who were setting the tempo.

2 Straight Points

Neenah caught its foes at 31-all and the score was deadlocked at 32 and 34 when the Rockets cut loose for a string of 12 straight points enroute to a 46-38 advantage at the three-fourths stop.

The Fox River Valley Conference entry, which had been given a fairly good trouncing under the boards in the first half, began to command in the third frame and its shooting, which was 10 of 31 before the break, picked up to 10 of 21 in the third 8-minute period.

At the same time Coach Barry Ewald's forces only were successful on one basket in 13 tries and made 10 errors, a good share of which led directly to Neenah baskets. They were outscored 22 to 8.

Bluejays Rally

The blue and white appeared to have applied the brakes to its foes' advance in the early moments of the last stanza when baskets by Bill Zeininger and Ron Haack reduced the margin to four points.

Neenah, however, banged in the next six in a row to jump ahead 54-42 and proceeded to rack up a 10-4 edge in the next several minutes to widen the spread to 16.

Leading the second half charge were Pat Hawley and John Arpin. Held scoreless in the first half, Hawley made eight points in the third quarter

Truckers Face Hortonville In District Finals Tonight

BY ROGER PITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEW LONDON — Favored Clintonville will face Hortonville in the championship game of the New London District Tournament at 7:30 p.m. today.

Carl Bruggink's Truckers had little trouble in disposing of Shawano 88-61 despite a rash of turnovers. Hortonville fought back in the final period hitting 20 charity tosses to beat New London 67-59.

A scoring duel between the top two Mid-Eastern Conference point-makers failed to develop in the nightcap, however, as 6-5 John Torborg demonstrated why he was the scoring king with a 30-point output for Clintonville. The Indians Orman Waukau tallied 12 points.

Dennis Nagreen almost never missed from long range as he zipped in 10 fielders and eight charity tosses for game honors for Hortonville.

Raced to Lead

New London raced to a 21-11 lead in the first quarter before turning cold in the second canto as their point output dipped to eight, allowing Hortonville to comeback within a single point, 29-28 at the intermission.

Foul trouble and then injury to Jim Klatt in the third quarter spelled doom for the Bulldogs. Klatt twisted an ankle, starting a nightmare for the New Londoners.

He was followed to the bench by Phil Meyer with 5:16 left; Todd Huber 3.42 remaining; Terry Cooney two minutes left; and Pete Meikeljohn in the last minute.

The Polar Bears netted only 19 field goals but tallied on 29 of 45 gift shots while the Bulldogs rained in 26 from the court and just seven of 18 free throws.

Hit Free Throws

Hortonville scored 20 free throws in the final quarter as sophomore Mark Everts led them back from a 42-37 deficit after three quarters. Everts netted nine straight charity tosses, and a field goal before missing his 10th attempt from the foul line in the fourth stanza. Nagreen added a fielder and seven of eight free throws in the period.

Everts ended the contest with 12 points, and Dave Riggles tallied 13 for the winners. John Kaepernick led the Bulldogs with 18 points and Cooney added 14.

Hortonville not only had a major advantage at the charity stripe, but hauled in 53 rebounds to New London's 29 to win the battle off the boards.

Clintonville earned its shot at the district title with both impressive and eratic play against Shawano in a walk-away after a tight 20-18 first quarter.

14-Point Spurt

Torborg and Rod True paced a 14-pointer spurt to open the second period and take the game out of Shawano's reach. The Clints led 43-27 at the intermission, but Shawano chipped two points off the margin in the third canto to trail, 58-44.

Torborg tallied 12 points in the final period to bring the Truckers home with little worry.

Ripon Quintet Gets by Grinnell In Overtime, 70-68

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lakeland College was no doubt trying to show Aesop knew what he was talking about when he advised in his famous tortoise-and-hare fable to never lose our cool.

"Slow and sure wins the race," Aesop's centuries-old advice, was the guideline Friday night as Lakeland's Muskies pulled ahead from a 12-point deficit, and downed St. Norbert 108-100 for the Wisconsin Independent College Association's basketball title.

The enacious victors, now 23-5 for the season, will host the NAIA District 14 (Wisconsin) playoff Tuesday to determine who goes to national play in Kansas City.

SUC Playoff

Tuesday's opponent is being determined tonight in a State University Conference playoff between co-champions Stout State and Stevens Point.

In other Friday night games, Whitewater overcame Dominican 71-68, Northland beat Northwestern College 97-82, Monmouth downed Beloit 77-58, Ripon beat Grinnell 70-68 in overtime, and Cornell of Iowa stopped Lawrence University 77-71.

St. Norbert's Jack Gebler was the high scorer with 36 points. Lakeland's balanced scoring pace included five men in double figures, headed by Dave Pierce with 28 and Bob Guy with 26.

Grade Teams Roll Up 138 Points in Game

KIMBERLY — The Menasha St. John and Appleton St. Pius grade school teams crammed 138 points into 24 minutes of play in their Catholic Boy League tournament game here Friday night, the Menashans winning, 73-65.

Paul Wisneſski scored 34 points for the winners while Lang's 14 paced St. Pius.

Cornell Deals Vikes, 77-71 MC Setback

Townsend, Childs Set Scoring Pace With 24 and 21

CORNELL, IOWA — The Lawrence University bucketmen came on like gangbusters in the first half of their game against the Cornell Rams Friday night, as they ended the first half of play on the strong end of a 41-34 score.

Then with approximately six minutes left in the second half, Lawrence's star 6-9 center, Brad Childs, fouled out, and the Rams were able to sprint to a 77-71 Midwest Conference victory.

Childs poured in 21 points before leaving the game, on seven field goals and seven successes from the charity line. Lawrence forward Bob Townsend drilled a pace-setting 24 points for the Vikings.

Tim Delong led the Cornell cause with 16 points. Chuck Solberg tallied 15 points, while Ram Joe Campanelli managed 14 tallies.

Missed Rebounding

It was an over-all team effort that catapaulated Cornell back into the game and finally to a victory. The Vikes undoubtedly missed Childs rebounding, as well as his effective shooting. Childs recently established a new Lawrence record for rebounds in a single season.

The Rams missed only nine free throws, as they fired a hot 62 per cent from the charity line. Lawrence was not far behind, however, as the Vikings hit on 19 of 27 efforts for a respectable 70 per cent.

Lawrence now has an 8-9 record in Midwest Conference play, while Cornell's victory boosts its season mark to 7-10. The Vikings square off against Grinnell College this afternoon to wrap up their efforts for the season.

I-S and Wittenberg Win in Tournament

IOLA — Two Central Wisconsin Conference teams, Iola-Scandinavia and Wittenberg, gained the finals of the district basketball tournament with victories here Friday night.

Rosholt and Bear Creek will now meet in the consolation game of the tourney at 7 p.m. today. I-S and Wittenberg battle for the championship at 8:30 p.m.

Host Iola-Scandinavia used a press to bother Rosholt in a 65-44 romp, and Wittenberg pulled out a 53-43 win over Bear Creek. Both of the losers are members of the Wolf River Valley Conference.

I-S bolted to a 12-4 lead midway through the first period, then settled for an 18-13 spread at the quarter's end. The Thunderbirds stretched their advantage to 32-19 by halftime with a 14-6 margin and were never in danger after that.

Hits 10 Buckets

Mark Helgeson drilled 10 field goals for 20 points to pace I-S. Bruce Meagher's 16 markers were the main support. Allan Printz hit 11 for the Hornets.

Bear Creek took a brief lead in the opening quarter, but Wittenberg soon got control of the boards to gain a 17-13 margin at the buzzer.

The Bruins stayed close through the next two periods, trailing by only a 5-point gap at the end of the third frame, 44-39. Both teams went cold in the final period, and the Wildcats managed a 9-4 advantage for the 10-point victory.

Nick Strong and Barry Hartleben combined for 34 of the winners' points, 18 by Strong. Bob Fletcher with 19 and Jerry Shadduck and Jim Mares with 10 each led Bear Creek.

Truckers' performance was an exceeding number of bad passes in the third quarter, as they attempted to fast break and crack a Shawano press.

Clintonville's tall front line pulled in 41 rebounds to 24, as Jeff Waukau, the Indians' optstanding board man, was kept away from the boards quite well.

In addition to Torborg's 30 points, Clintonville was paced by Rod True with 19 points, and Todd Nordwig with 10. Mark Born and Jeff Waukau led Shawano with 14 points each.

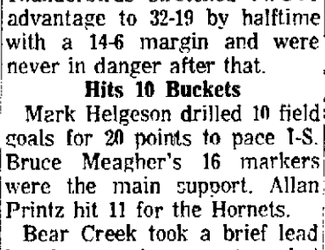
COLD WEATHER TIPS TO AID FISHING



IN COLDEST WATERS FISH ARE LESS ACTIVE, BUT SOME FOOD IS NEEDED EACH DAY. NATURE SUPPLIES LESS FOOD AT THIS TIME AND FEEDING PERIODS ARE SHORT. NOON TO MIDAFTERNOON IS USUALLY BEST IN OPEN WATER FEED LANES (RIFFLES, EDDIES, ET CETERA).

WHERE LAW PERMITS MIDWINTER TROUT FISHING, USE BAIT (PALE, OR WHITE SALMON EGGS ARE TOPS!) OR LURES—EVEN DRY FLIES. FISH DEEP FOR PANFISH AND BASS, USING REGULAR LURES. SURFACE LURES TAKE "LUNKER" BASS IN DEEP SOUTH. CATFISHING IS POOR, STEELHEAD SALMON IS FINE, AS IS ICE-FISHING.

Weyauwega Wins, 79-55

Marion Upsets Waupaca

MANAWA — Marion upset the Central Wisconsin conference champion Waupaca basketball team, 68-54, while Weyauwega followed two season victories by downing Manawa, 79-55, in the first round of the Manawa District tournament Friday night.

Marion will face Weyauwega today at 8:30 p.m. for the district championship. Waupaca goes against the Wolves in the consolation game beginning at 7 p.m.

Waupaca, rated ninth among Wisconsin small schools, had beaten Marion twice in conference play this year. The Mustangs finished second behind Waupaca, which compiled a 16-2 season record, in the Central Wisconsin conference.

The Mustangs jumped off to an early 9-0 lead and maintained a 10-point margin throughout most of the first half. The Comets rallied briefly late in the second stanza, however, to whittle Marion's advantage to seven.

The third quarter saw the Mustangs pad their margin by six tallies, to take 49-36 lead. Marion scored 19 in the final period, while the Comets collected 18 points to account for the 68-54 final score.

John Braun, Marion's 6-4 center, scored 24 points and snagged 22 rebounds. Braun's work was instrumental in taking the control of the boards away from Waupaca, usually a high rebounding team. Teammate Dennis Peterson put in another 23 tallies.

The Comets 6-3 forward, Mick Sannes, took games scoring honors with 27 points. Dennis Riddle and Chuck Forseth collected 10 points each for Waupaca.

Weyauwega scored eight straight points in the first five minutes of the second quarter as they went on to overwhelm Manawa 79-55 in the second game.

Weyauwega captured a 36-20 halftime lead and kept a substantial margin for the rest of the contest. The closest the Wolves came in the second half was early in the final stanza when they narrowed Weyauwega's lead to 50-40.

Manawa's Doug Langman, a 6-1 forward, led all scorers with 23 markers. Jim Nolan paced the Indians from his forward position on nine field goals and three free throws for a total of 21 points. He was followed by Dennis Harrigan with 20 tallies, who also helped Weyauwega control the boards.

Manawa shot a frigid 28 per cent from the floor, while the Indians made 38 per cent of their field goal attempts.

The Marion team, which faces Weyauwega tonight for the district championship, defeated the Indians in their first meeting by 13 points. In their second tilt at Weyauwega, Marion won by one in overtime.

Seymour Loses To Redbird '5'

Cold Shooting in 2nd Quarter Hurts Indians, Fall, 62-55

Post-Crescent News Service

DE PERE — Redbird challenges Phantom tonight in the West De Pere High School gym for district basketball honors.

To localize the tourney into an intra-city showdown, DePere subdued the Seymour Indians, 62-55, and West's Phantoms eliminated Ashwaubenon, 87-53, in Friday action. Tonight's winner advances to the regional round at Oconto.

Combining aggressive board work with a distressing Indian dry spell in the second period, DePere overcame an early deficit to post a 28-21 lead at halftime and the determined Birds made it stick, picking up three more points in a 19-16 third frame before slacking off under Indian last-ditch pressure, 15-18.

In the crucial second frame, Seymour failed to register a basket until its 10th shot from the floor.

Seven free throws kept Seymour alive as DePere pumped in 10 baskets and one gift to take over at intermission. Jim O'Keefe led the overhaul with three baskets, Ed Moore and Paul Devleeshower contributed two each, Pete Clabots, Pete Burnham and Kent Trachte also scored from the floor.

O'Keefe paced the win with 19 points. Trachte scored 15 and Devleeshower 12. Pete King led Seymour with 17, Ed King hit 12 and Rob Treml 10 for the losers.

Omro, Wolves Record Wins, Meet Tonight

Randy Wade Leads Foxes; Winneconne Tips Berlin, 58-57

OMRO — Omro and Winneconne each overcame early deficits to emerge winners in the district basketball tournament Friday night.

The Foxes, champions of the Little Nine Conference, downed Ripon, 66-51, after trailing the Tigers, 19-10 after the first quarter, while the Wolves nipped Berlin, 58-57, after being down, 15-13, at the close of the initial period.

The two winners will battle at 7:30 p.m. today for the district championship, the third such meeting between the same two teams in the last three years at the district level.

Bob Bredahl tossed in five baskets in the first period to pace Ripon's opening surge. However, Omro switched its scoring ace Randy Wade to defense Bredahl after that, and the Tiger ace was stifled without a bucket.

Wade Hits 24

Wade, whose 24 points sparked the Foxes, helped his team rally to gain a 30-30 tie late in the second period. The two clubs were deadlocked at 32-all at halftime.

With its fast break starting to click now, Omro raced to an 18-8 advantage in the third period and won going away. A 16-11 edge in the last frame boosted Omro's final margin.

Backing Wade were Steve Hoeft with 20 points and Tom King with 12. Jim Beier bossed Ripon scorers with 21 points, and Beier wound up with 11.

Jeff Allen's basket with six seconds left brought Winneconne back from an apparent loss in its struggle against Berlin. Allen picked up a loose ball under the hoop to get the opportunity for the winning bucket; about 20 seconds after Roy Franzen had put the Tigers ahead on a layup.

The Wolves held a 32-14 halftime lead, but Berlin, behind some balanced scoring, scrambled back into the game. Winneconne was still up by four points, 46-42, at the close of the third period.

Allen's 15 points headed Wolve point-makers. Russ Flanigan added 14 and Tom Kinney 13. Bob Brotzke's 17 markers topped the Indians.

Reedsville to Meet Valders

Panthers Edge Mishicot, 53-52; Chilton Defeated

CHILTON — Action at the Chilton district basketball tournament Friday saw Reedsville and Valders earn victories which will move them into the finals at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

In the more exciting of the two games, Reedsville managed to slip by Mishicot in a 53-52 thriller. With only nine seconds remaining, Steve Zirbell dropped in two free shots which moved the Panthers into the lead. Michicot, however, stormed back down the court and connected on a bucket by Dave Holmes only to have it ruled out by the timer as being after the final gun.

Valders downed Chilton by a 64-53 margin.

The victory for Reedsville was the result of a fourth quarter drive which overcame a 15-point deficit. Trailing 47-32 going into the last period, the Panthers were spurred by the hot shooting of Zirbell. Wayne Nohr and Jay Barnard, all of whom scored six points.

Hits 16 Points

The loser's Dave Holmes captured game scoring honors with 16 tallies on eight field goals. Barnard and Zirbell both managed 14 for Reedsville's winning effort.

Valders' win over Chilton came during the second half and was made easier by the fact that the losers lost four men on fouls. Fouls also played an important role in the scoring department as Valders took advantage of frequent opportunities and sunk 26 free shots to Chilton's 7.

The victory's Ron Wadzinski had the contest's highest number of tallies with 19. Behind him was Chilton's Dick Daun with 18 scores and teammate Terry Ruh with 16.

Freedom, Bonduel Advance To District Finals With Wins

BONDUEL — Freedom dropped in a clutch field goal with six seconds left to wrap-up a 56-52 victory against the Shiocton Indians in Bonduel District Tournament action Friday night. In a second game, Bonduel dumped Wrightstown, 70-59.

Shiocton missed a pair of layups near the end of the game that could have closed the two-point lead the Irish held at the time.

Shiocton had a 30-27 halftime lead over Freedom, but the Indians dropped in 10 points in the final stanza, while their opponents totaled 14 in the same period.

Freedom was exceptionally cold from the free throw line, missing 22 of 32 attempts for a percentage of 31. The Indians weren't able to do much better, as they shot a mediocre 44 per cent, hitting on eight of 18 efforts.

Joe Vanden Breg led the victors with 16 points, on seven field goals and two free throws. Dave Warning paced Shiocton with 15 points, Ken Samson dropped in 12.

Take Big Lead

The Bonduel Bears jumped off to a strong first quarter lead, 20-7, over Wrightstown and never came close to losing the lead for the rest of the night.

Misha Dichter Better Than Great Cliburn

Oshkosh Town-Gown Concert Proves Why Young Pianist Receives Raves

BY DAVID F. WAGNER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — The big attraction of last season's Town and Gown series was pianist Van Cliburn. Mr. Cliburn was the Tschaikovsky competition winner at Moscow in 1958, a feat which Misha Dichter duplicated eight years later. Mr. Dichter appeared at the Civic Auditorium Thursday evening, and as unfashionable as it may to say it, he was infinitely more enjoyable than Cliburn, if not a superior technician.

Dichter performed one of the most energetic concerts Town and Gown has seen. Drawing on material which afforded the chance to display his ample technical skill and versatility, the young American artist showed time and again why he receives unqualified raves from top music critics the world over. When the New York Times calls him "brilliant. . .an immensely talented artist" and the London Daily Telegraph bills him as "one of the master pianists of our time," it is easy to see why.

Absolutely the only disturbing aspect of the concert was the use of Franz Schubert's "Sonata in A Minor, Opus 143" as an opener. While it requires a dexterous pianist and poses musical roadblocks no amateur should attempt (one suspects Schubert didn't really like pianists), it is dry to a fault and far more suitable for academic musicians — professors and students — than the general audience in attendance here.

If the Schubert was slow in starting, the Beethoven "Sonata in F Minor, Opus 57," known as "Appassionata," was one of the more exciting stage performances I have seen in the last five years of Town and Gown.

Accosted Keyboard

Dichter literally accosted the keyboard in the many energetic moments of the beautiful sonata. As a result, the performance had power and a character which more "dignified" artists could not possibly conjure up.

In such an aggressive style, however, the pianist is likely to hit a wrong key now and then again and there will be moments when the work is overwhelmed by the player, with the result that academic perfectionists will dismiss the performance, and sometimes the artist, on the basis of a couple of mistakes.

But how wonderfully more exciting is such a performer. It is he who can make the music truly live. Dichter did just that in "Appassionata," and throughout both this selection and the remaining half of the concert, Dichter showed promise of becoming one of the greatest living pianists before long. Still young (barely of legal age), Dichter should have anywhere from four to six decades to develop as a performer. When I think of the head start he has, my mind boggles

Played to Perfection

After intermission, six short works by Sergei Rachmaninoff were played to perfection. Performed were five preludes and "Etude-Tableau in E Flat Minor, Opus 39, No. 5." The latter and the rousing "Prelude in B Flat Major, Opus 23, No. 2," were thrilling moments indeed.

Serge Prokotiev's "Sonata No. 7, Opus 83," placed an appropriate 20th century topping on an already superb concert. The final movement, entirely in 7-8 meter, topped anything else heard Thursday night in sheer excitement alone. The ovation given immediately after was persistent and loud.

Next attractions will be a road company version of the musical, "Funny Girl" (blue series, March 5), and the Moscow State Symphony (red series, March 9), which will perform an all Tschaikovsky concert.

Fined After Mishap

KAUKAUNA — Miss Sizanne V. Smith, 18, 402 Ninth St., Neenah, pleaded guilty to inattentive driving and was fined $15 and costs when she appeared Friday before Municiapl Justice Clarence O'Connor. Miss Smith was arrested after being involved in a minor accident Feb. 26.

Nominated as Best Actresses of 1968 by the Motion Picture Academy, the performers are shown in the roles which brought them the honor and chance for the golden Oscar. Top row, from the left, are Patricia Neal in "The Subject was Roses"; Katharine Hepburn in "Lion in the Winter"; Joanne Woodward in "Rachel, Rachel." Barbra Streisand was chosen for her role in "Funny Girl," bottom left, and Vanessa Redgrave for "Isadora." (AP Wirephoto)

Skaters, Skiers Compete for World Titles

BY TV SCOUT

4-5:30 Channel 11 — ABC's Wide World of Sports devotes its entire 90 minutes to coverage of the World Figure Skating Championships from the Broadmoor World Arena, Colorado Springs, Colo. Fifteen nations will be represented. Leading United States contenders include Tim Wood, silver medal winner at the Olympics, and 15-year-old Janet Lynn of Rockford, Ill.

5:30-6:30 Channel 11 — The World Cup Alpine Skiing Championships are covered live from Squaw Valley, Calif. These are competitions for both men and women skiers. The World Cup is annually awarded to the two individuals with the highest cumulative scores from a series of meets held throughout the world.

6:30-7 Channel 5 — The officers of Adam-12 run into a grim situation tonight as a teen-ager refuses to accept the realities of his crime. He has been accused of selling narcotics. When faced with arrest, he locks himself in his room — with a gun. He tells the law he would rather die than be taken and he punctuates his feelings with a bullet through the door in case they are thinking of rushing him.

6:30-7:30 Channel 2 — The Jackie Gleason Show dusts off what is becoming the grand old standby of the musical Honeymooner" series. It's the one that has Jackie "capturing" an underworld figure. Fame, fortune and political potential quickly follow. Everything is great until word is received that the killer has escaped and vowed to get his captor.

7-7:30 Channel 5 — Get Smart is funny enough to stand on its own, particularly this episode, but the presence of Tom Poston never hurt any show. The droll fellow plays a mad scientist type who specializes in high voltage electricity for various and nefarious purposes.

7:30-8 Channel 2 — The generation gap gets bridged again on My Three Sons, with Irene Hervey guesting. She plays the mother of one of Ernie's girl friends. When she and Uncle Charley find a mutual interest in each other, the kids are scandalized.

7:30-8 Channel 5 — Young Jonathan gets a lesson in "does the end justify the means" on The Ghost and Mrs. Muir. He has won a school essay contest with an historical work on John Adams. When he is told he is to recite the essay at a banquet, Captain Gregg offers to help him with a few bits of unknown history about Adams and his "friend," Benjamin Franklin. The revised essay causes the committee to reverse its decision on first place, unless Jonathan will "unrevise" the essay.

8:30-9 Channel 2 — Uncle Joe (Edgar Buchanan) is again the center of activity on Petticoat Junction. The easy-going gentleman decides tonight that it is time he began thinking of taking it easy, so he announces his retirement. The news sends his friends into gales of laughter as they wonder what he is going to retire from.

8:30-9:30 Channel 11 — Bing Crosby is back hosting The Hollywood Palace, bringing on Frank Sinatra, Jr., the son of a famous rival. Then, to set things right, he brings on another famous son, Gary Crosby.

The listening audience is encouraged to phone or mail questions to WLFM before airtime, or phone them in during the show.

Kaukauna, County Join in Site Study

Potential Seen in Park, Wildlife Refuge Development Near City

KAUKAUNA — Members of the health and recreation committee of the common council and the Outagamie county park committee have agreed to study the costs in developing a 250-acre site east of Kaukauna as a county park or wildlife refuge.

The area is heavily wooded. A portion known as the "1,000 Island Area" is located south of County Trunk Z and another portion between county trunks Q and Z including the Girl Scout Camp Winnecomac area.

Approximately 40 persons including city and county park committee members, representatives of the Fox Valley Council of Governments and interested citizens recently attended a general discussion session to explore the area's future.

There has been some agitation on the city council to have the area designated as a wildlife refuge and kept in its natural state. Others felt it should be developed into a partial park area. Aldermen felt the county might join in the project to help keep costs down.

Allen Bubolz, chairman of the county park committee, indicated the committee was flexible and not ready to say whether a park or natural conservation area was most desireable. He said the committee was interested in all city and state park projects in relation to the overall county park system.

He said some thought had been given to purchasing the area, but since Kaukauna showed an interest, the county park committee was open on the matter. If the county developed the area it might become a combination park and wildlife refuge, he said.

Ald. George Simon (3rd.) felt it should be a joint project of the city and county while a representative of the Fox Valley Council of Governments indicated the area should be retained for conservation purposes. Ald. Richard Gerrits (2nd) and the late Kaukauna Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon, favored the wildlife idea rather than developing a park.

Representatives of the Kaukauna school system favor retaining the tract in its natural state and utilizing it for educational purposes. County Supv. Russell De La Hunt, Kaukauna, feels the city should retain the area to insure local control. John Warren, High Cliff State Park manager, says rudimentary trails could be cut in the area very cheaply, but warned, once an area is set aside it is already destroyed since man will develop the area the way he wants. He questioned whether the city or county could afford a scientific luxury.

Richard Killian, from the Town of Buchanan board said the county should develop the area as a park. He also proposed developing fire lanes for the area.

Police Feel Abduction Report Hoax

Although detectives were continuing investigation early this afternoon, indications are that the reported abduction of a youth at S. Madison and E. Fremont Streets Thursday afternoon was "a hoax."

A woman who lives in the 1400 block of S. Madison Street notified Appleton police at 3:25 p.m. Thursday that a boy who had just gotten off a bus had been forced into a car at gunpoint.

She described the "abductors" as being several "hippie-looking" youths in a red station wagon, who drove west on Fremont Street then south on Oneida.

She told police the youth had just gotten off the bus and was carrying books when two young people, one carrying what appeared to be a pistol and the other carrying a rifle or a shotgun, apparently ordered the youth into the station wagon.

The woman furnished a description of the suspected abductors and their clothing. Several other persons also witnessed the incident, police learned.

As of noon today, no one had been reported missing.

Rural DePere Youth Given Probation After Admitting Check Count

William Kramer, 18, route 2, West DePere, charged following investigation by the Outagamie County Sheriff's Department, pleaded guilty Friday of cashing a worthless $35 check Feb. 6 at the J. C. Penney Co. in Appleton.

Sheriff's investigators said the youth also issued several other bad checks, totaling more than $200 between Oct. 18 and Feb. 15. He was not charged with the other check counts, but Judge Nick F. Schaefer, after imposing one year's probation to the State Department of Health and Social Services, ordered Kramer to make full restitution.

The high school youth also is to pay court costs. In granting probation, Schaefer said he was taking into consideration the youth's age and good prior record.

Bills on Student Turmoil Up For Legislative Hearings

MADISON (AP)— Two of the 1969 legislative session's more controversial topics are scheduled for a series of hearings next week in the state Capitol.

The Joint Education Committee will be conducting hearings Wednesday on a number of bills which reflect legislative anger with recent campus disturbances by students.

The measures include making a campus off-limits to unruly demonstrators, depriving students of sound-amplification equipment which might disrupt campus peace, and suspended law-breakers from state colleges for a year.

The legislature has already acted on measures to cut off state financial assistance to demonstrating students convicted of breaking laws.

Birth control, which several legislators have predicted could be the session's most emotion-packed subject, begins a review Tuesday afternoon under auspices of the Senate's Public Welfare Committee.

Committees have already forwarded a bill which would remove the state's 30-year-old "indecent articles" description from contraceptives, but which would still prevent distribution of brith control devices to unmarried persons.

Liberal Proposal

It is being accompanied by a more liberal proposal for allowing unwed persons to have legal access to contraceptives.

Other proposals on the week's hearing agenda include changing the name of the Assembly to "house of representatives," urging Congress to support Israel in its conflict with Arab nations, and raising the minimum hourly wage guarantee for some workers.

Funds Sought For UW-M Religion Study

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — The University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee needs an additional $50,000 in its budget to finance a department of religious studies created by the Legislature, the lawmakers' finance committee has been told.

University Chancellor J. Martin Klotsche told the Legislature's Joint Committee on Finance the funds are needed to finance the department which it was compelled to create two years ago as a part of winning legislative approval of its budget.

The requirement that the religious studies department be created was inserted in the 1967-69 budget law by conservatives on the 1967 finance committee.

The action came after students requested the UW's Board of Regents, then dominated by liberals, to create the department. The board refused.

The students then turned to the Legislature, and conservatives on the finance unit required that it be created.

UWGB to Ask Dean to Resign Business Post

Martin Objects to Posey Serving as Head of VENCO

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — University of Wisconsin-Green Bay Dean Rollin Posey will be asked to resign immediately from his post as president of a private investment capital firm in Green Bay, UWGB Chancellor Edward W. Weidner told the legislative Joint Committee on Finance Friday.

Weidner made the promise after Assemblyman David O. Martin, R-Neenah, questioned the propriety of the connection between the business school dean and the Venture Capital Corporation (VENCO).

Posey is head of the School of Professional Studies of UWGB, and on Feb. 16 it was announced that he had been elected president of VENCO, which has assets of over $300,000 in venture capital.

Martin questioned how much time Posey, as head of a newly forming school at UWGB, would be devoting to the administrative problems of a fledgling business firm.

Only One Meeting

Weidner replied that the VENCO firm is now in reality a "paper organization" that has held only one formal business meeting. Before Posey formally associated with VENCO, he asked Weidner's permission, the Chancellor reported.

"Dean Posey made two promises," replied Weidner, that he would not become involved in a time consuming executive officer's job and that he would look for another person to take that post," Weidner explained.

"I think it's a very dangerous precedent you have established with this case," warned Martin.

"I'd be happy to rectify this situation because I have that understanding with him," said Weidner.

He later said his statement meant that he would ask Posey to leave his post as president of VENCO.

Kaukauna Woman Fined $25 for Theft

The theft of two pairs of undergarments cost Mrs. Nadine Vandenberg, 30, route 1 Kaukauna, $25 and costs in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 Friday.

She was charged on a complaint brought by K Mart security officials. The offense occurred Feb. 19.

UWGB Wants Funds Restored to Budget

Weidner Says $200,000 Needed to Hire Library Staff Members, Student Counseling

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A special plea to restore $200,000 in library and student counseling funds cut from the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay budget by Gov. Warren P. Knowles has been made to the Legislature's Joint Committee on Finance.

Chancellor Edward W. Weidner of the UWGB told the committee that the funds are needed to insure that professional staff workers are available to serve students in the planned library on the campus, as well as to hire student counselors to aid students in planning their academic careers.

He asked for the funds to insure that at all times that the library is open a professional staff person will be on hand to oversee the work of student employes. Three more library staff people will be required to establish that policy, said Weidner.

And four professional counselors are needed to make up for counselors who have been switched into other administrative duties because of the pressures of starting the new school, said Weidner.

No Services

No student counseling service is available to the student body, Weidner emphasized, spelling out that the services are needed. The services are not psychological aids, but assistance services for students planning their academic careers, he said.

He said that the cuts had been made in the budget because the governor's office suggested that some services could be delayed during the start up process of the new school.

But skyrocketing enrollment figures show that the new degree-granting school is winning wide acceptance with students making plans for their futures, said Weidner.

Standard college practice is to operate a library morning, afternoon and evening five days a week, morning and afternoon on Saturday, and afternoon and evening on Sunday, the chancellor said. UWGB intends to follow that practice. But to insure that at least one professional staff member is on hand at all times will require funds for three more staff workers, he explained.

The four counselors would take the place of people originally hired for such work, and would be paid up to $10,000 a $12-month year, said Weidner.

Sen. Walter Hollander, R-Rosendale, co-chairman of the finance committee examining the budget presented by Gov. Warren P. Knowles to the Legislature, promised that the requests for additional aid would be taken into consideration by the unit.

Weidner's appeal was coupled by a similar request from the UW-Parkside for another $200,000.

The two requests came as a part of a UW package request for $3 million over Knowles' budget proposal for the UW.

Legion Endorses Calumet Service Officer Candidate

STOCKBRIDGE — Calumet County American Legion council, Thursday night endorsed Norbert Euclide, Chilton, as a candidate for county veteran's service officer. The post was left vacant by the death of Alfred N. Hertel. Hertel was service officer for 25 years.

Euclide, a veteran, and member of the Chilton American Legion post, must qualify through a civil service test.

A memorial to honor Hertel is being considered by the group. A committee, comprised of Euclide, Norman Krueger, Chilton and Harry Ricker, Stockbridge, was appointed to discuss the matter with other veterans' groups to which Hertel belonged A plaque for the court house was suggested.

The council agreed to provide 24 wooden chairs for Camp American Legion, a rest camp for veterans near Tomahawk. Lloyd Habermann, Brillion, 6th district commander, volunteered to construct them with assistance from other members.

Youth Day

Youth Government Day at the court house in Chilton will be March 18. Legionnaires asked for suggestions for improving the format. The possibility of the youths attending some court sessions was offered but rejected as it would mean selecting another day which would eliminate the county board sessions.

It was announced that the district spring conference set for April 27 in Menasha, possibly will be advanced to April 20. Officers will be elected and candidates for district commander, as well as several other positions are being sought.

Posts were urged to promote ticket sales for the 50th anniversary banquet honoring the founding of the organization to be held on a county-wide basis March 16 at Salm's Hall, Potter. The Hilbert post is in charge of arrangements.

Oratory Winners

The county oratorical winners will receive awards at the dinner and bowling trophies for the top legion and auxiliary teams in the county bowling tournament will be presented.

The New Holstein post was commended for again sponsoring the district Americanism banquet at which two World War I veterans, Harry Ricker and the late Alfred N. Hertel were chosen to receive awards. Mrs. Hertel accepted the award for her husband.

The next meeting will be April 24 in Sherwood.

Two Narcotics Charges

Free on Bond, Back in Jail 24 Hours Later

Freed from jail on a $1,500 bond at 5:25 p.m. Thursday, a 19-year-old Appleton youth was back in the same jail on an identical narcotics charge less than 24 hours later.

David A. Brooks, 318½ W. Atlantic St., was one of two teenagers taken into custody by Appleton detectives about noon Friday in Bayorgeon Recreation Area on Kaukauna's southeast side.

Brooks and Gordon Tawse, 19, a Lawrence University sophomore from London, England, were brought to Outagamie County Court Branch 2, late Friday afternoon.

Case Continued

Tawse, who is charged with possession of narcotic drugs on Feb. 22 and Feb. 28, is in jail under $1,500 bond. Judge Nick F. Schaefer continued his case to 8:45 a.m. Monday to allow him time to consult an attorney.

Brooks made only a brief court appearance Friday. Seemingly dazed, he would not respond when Schaefer asked him for his name. Schaefer continued his case until later Friday afternoon, but then adjourned it to Monday when Brooks still was unable to be brought from the jail.

Brooks, formerly of Kaukauna, had a preliminary hearing in Schaefer's court Thursday on a charge of possession and sale of a narcotic drug. The hearing was to have resumed Monday, when his court-appointed attorney would question a technician from the Wisconsin State Crime Laboratory.

Posted Bond

Brooks was taken into custody early the morning of Feb. 22 and had been in jail under $1,500 bond until Thursday afternoon, when he posted a surety bond.

Appleton police said they went to the Kaukauna park Friday, acting on information received from a young informant. Neither Tawse nor Brooks, who were apprehended in and near their car, offered any resistance, police said.

Authorities allege that substances found on the youths when they were searched following their apprehension Friday was marijuana. Brooks now is charged with another narcotics possession count.

GRY SIMON
the Post-Crescent

OUIS — Student power
ven a new meaning
when students didn't go for three days at a Seminary here.

time wasn't spent on marches or any vio-

"protest" instead, bea chapel service, was ed in the middle by the campus communion
nd ended with a bene-

rast to the results of unrest elsewhere, students and faculty members at the Lutheran seminary sat down and talked about student complaints and ideas Feb. 18-20.

Discussions Requested

Students had requested dropping classes and extra-curricular activities for three days so they could discuss the way the seminary is preparing them to become pastors in the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

The move wasn't just to get out of class

Seminarians spent more time in small discussion groups and assembly sessions than they would have spent in classes. No assignments were dropped.

Yet most students agreed the time was well-spent

Many ideas were heard for the first time by professors during the exchange, and faculty members participated freely.

Professor's Rights

Professors were allowed to speak, make motions and vote at the final general assembly which considered proposals for change to be presented to the various authorities.

Few if any professors voted, however, since many of the requests were referred to the faculty for consideration

One request already granted is that grades not be mailed to parents of students. About 40 per cent of the student body is married, and some criticized the practice as a holdover from the days when students could not be married.

Many of the requests centered around curriculum.

Although students generally agreed that a certain number of courses are necessary and should be required of all seminarians, reduction of the number of required courses was strongly favored.

Required Courses

Courses required, according to one suggestion, would include preaching, worship, religious education techniques, introduction to exegetical work in the Old Testament (Hebrew) and the New Testament (Greek), church history, and church doctrine, as systematized in the Book of Concord, Lutheran confessional statement.

Results of narrowing the required number of courses would be more electives and a greater chance to specialize in a specific area of ministry, such as counseling, institutional work, youth work, inner city and other areas.

Students also favored a more diversified curriculum approach, proposing independent study and research as an alternative to attending required classes and fulfilling their requirements.

Students asked to be allowed to drop a course from the spring academic quarter, but whether the faculty will approve the step remains in doubt.

Restrictive Load

The request was in line with student feeling that the 15 to 17 credit hours carried each term by students restrict both faculty and students.

Proponents of the reduced course load claimed that a divinity school which requires students to have earned a college degree should emphasize not the number of courses a student has to carry, but how much in-depth study he can do in courses which will apply later in his ministry.

National television publicity was received because of the three-day session, which was termed by some a "quiet revolution."

Church and seminary officials applauded the students for the way in which they approached the solution of their problems, noting that the three-day session resulted from students desire to be prepared as well as possible for the ministry.

'Exhilarating Experience'

Dr. Arthur Repp, seminary vice president, termed it "an exhilarating experience to see how responsible and conscientious our students are."

Agreeing was the academic dean, Dr. Walter Wegner, former campus pastor at the University of Wisconsin. He said, "You might call this a responsible revolution. . .in that the issues the students felt important were fought for vigorously — but with maturity and responsibility."

Study of the more than 100 proposals submitted by students is under the direction of a steering committee of two professors and three students, who are directing them to various sub-committees

Lower Income Group

One of the few resolutions already passed for more exposure of seminarians to people of the lower economic and social classes, the non-religious blacks, the central residents and other minorities.

Several proposals were defeated because, as one floor speaker indicated, "they would reflect mistrust of our faculty and administration."

A report will be made to the student body in the middle of March on the proposals it did not have time to consider and the progress of requests already made.

One tangible result will come March 21, which students have set as a special offering date, calling upon each seminarian to voluntarily contribute between $5 and $15 to a fund which would supplement faculty salaries.

Students claim the salaries are severely inadequate.

Area Baptists To Hear Brazil Missionaries

The Rev. Karl Lachler, missionary on furlough from Brazil, will be a guest speaker at the 9:45 and 11 a.m. worship services Sunday at Fox River Baptist Church.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Lachler have completed three four-year terms as missionaries of the Baptist General Conference.

Rev. Lachler

Their main concern during the past term has been among college students in the interiors of the Sao Paulo State. Both of the missionaries have been studying at a college in Rio Preto and have come in contact with many college youths.

They have been instrumental in starting evangelical student groups and have spent time in training students for evangelism.

The Rev. Claude Zabinski, OFM, Green Bay; the Rev. Ambrose Peeters, O. Praem., DePere; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John Gehl, Stephensville, and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Herbert Kleiber, DePere.

Area Man Is New Episcopal Priest

The Rev. James C. Kiefer, son of Mrs. Cora Kiefer, formerly of Appleton now residing in King, has been ordained to the priesthood in the Episcopal Church in South Dakota.

Father Kiefer presently is serving as senior pastor of St. Elizabeth Chapel, Wakpala, S.

Fr. Kiefer

Methodists Offer Choice in Midweek Lenten Services

An experiment in Lenten services, offering the people a selection of the form of worship which would be more meaningful to them, has been worked out by the First Methodist and Emmanuel United Methodist churches, beginning Wednesday.

Services at Emmanuel will offer the regular worship, with sermon while the services at First Methodist will differ each week.

The Rev. Dr. W. H. Wiese, retired pastor, will deliver the sermons Wednesday and March 19, the Rev. Rolland Ferch, pastor at Emmanuel will be in charge March 12 and the Rev. Frank Wolfe, pastor, United Methodist Church, Forest Junction, will speak March 26 at the Emmanuel Church.

At First Methodist, mass media and its effects on everyone's life, will be the first topic. The Rev. Charles Legsdon, associate pastor, will head the program, which will include a short film and music.

A film on solitude, pointing up the place meditation has in life, is scheduled for March 12. A communion service, which will take the place of the regular Maundy Thursday service, has been set March 19.

A totally different concept will be initiated March 26 when the congregations are invited to a joint worship service at St. Bernard Catholic Church. The Rev. Orville Janssen, pastor who took part in a dialogue with the Methodists on Reformation Sunday, will participate.

After the mass Father Janssen and the Rev. Kenneth Engelman, Methodist pastor, will have a brief dialogue relative to the meaning of mass and its relationship to worship.

All services will be at 7 p.m.

New Minister Accepts Call To Appleton

Stanley W. Cottrell To Serve Three Area Adventist Churches

The Rev. Stanley W. Cottrell has accepted a call to serve the Seventh Day Adventist churches in Appleton, Oshkosh and New London.

He was born in Oxford, and raised in Poysippi. A graduate of Wisconsin Academy of Columbus, Wisconsin and Andrews University, Berrien Springs, Mich., he also attended a theological seminary for a year and was a singing evangelist in the Wisconsin Conference for four years.

Rev. Stanley Cottrell

The Rev. Mr. Cottrell has initiated a three-week "The Bible Speaks Crusade" which begins today. The program at 7:30 p.m., has a different topic each evening. "Our Shattered World—Where is it Headed?" is today's topic.

Others, in order, are, "What and Where is Heaven?" "Will Christ Come in Our Day?" "If God is Love-Why Sin and Suffering?" "How Long Does it Take to be Saved?" "Is Baptism Necessary for Salvation," and "The Sabbath, — Saturday or Sunday?"

There are no meetings Thursday.

The Seventh Day Adventist Church in Appleton is located at 350 W. Capital Drive.

Dr. Fry Fund Set Up for Study Grants

NEW YORK — The Franklin Clark Fry Memorial Fund has been established in memory of the churchman who was regarded as "Mr. Lutheran" and "Mr. Protestant" during the 24 years he served as president of major Lutheran Churches.

The fund will be used "to provide study grants to parish pastors who need financial assistance in attending enrichment conferences of various kinds," a long-time concern of the late president of the Lutheran Church in America (LCA).

Placed with the LCA Foundation's "Memorials that Live" program is $28,000, including contributions made to the family and to the church following Dr. Fry's death June 6, 1968.

Dr. Fry served as president of the United Lutheran Church in America from 1944 to 1962, when that was one of four bodies merged into the present LCA. He served as president of the LCA from 1962 until his death. As chairman of the Central and Executive committees of the World Council of Churches from 1954-1968 he received world acclaim.

Approved by the 3,288,000-member denomination's Executive Council, the memorial fund will provide grants ranging from $100 to $300. At the outset, it is stipulated, the study grants to parish pastors should be used for conferences "particularly those offered under the auspices of the Board of Theological Education" of the LCA. Applications are to be directed by the Board.

Under the agreement, operation of the fund will be reviewed at five-year intervals for a total of 25 years, at which time, "at the discretion of the Executive Council, the fund may either be continued or terminated."

A study of the feasibility and county functions, welfare departments, e made.

the basis of this year's ce with the executive what suggestions would for budget procedures equent years?

ecutive budget is a step ight direction. It gives yor executive controls did not have before. , this year's experience executive budget did not do justice to the purpose of an executive budget. There will have to be better communication and rapport between mayor, councilmen, department heads, interested groups and the taxpayer in the preparation of next year's budget. A repeat performance would be justification for a change in our budget system.

3. What suggestions can you make for maintaining the present quality of education in our schools while holding down the property tax rate?

Many people are aware that educational costs by 1975-76 will exceed present costs by 20-30 per cent. The issue is, how are we to provide quality education and at the same time minimize cost. Over the last decade the cost of public schooling has risen from 3 per cent to 3.8 per cent of our gross national budget, while class size of our elementary schools has decreased by only 3 pupils. To make any meaningful reduction in class size would result in intolerable costs and put a serious drain on manpower. The key lies in increasing the productivity of the individual teacher through reorganization of instruction, curriculum redesign, and audio-visual methods. This is important because over 60 per cent of our school budget goes for instruction and basically the high cost of education is due to rising teacher's salaries. Teacher's salaries in many cases are reaching the point of adequacy; but the cost factor is still present. We cannot continue to spend large sums of money on the present conventional method of organization. The new educational technology like the audio-visual media offers greater opportunity to achieve better results at lower costs. Many of these audio-visual methods, done by teacher assistants, have increased the teacher student ratio to as high as one teacher for every fifty students. To implement this we must use program accounting to identify the benefits of education technology. If we are to minimize educational costs we must improve instructional techniques. Lengthening the school year and use of school facilities after school should also be given consideration. Finally, we must build schools that are practical, not monuments.

4. What suggestions do you have for bringing commerce and industry into the corporate limits of Appleton?

Some of the prime factors in an industry locating in a certain community are not within the prerogative of local units of government. However, our city can provide services and activities to induce industry to locate here. Of prime consideration is the improvement of our city's character. Much has already been done to improve municipal facilities like parking, police department, fire department, industrial sites, and education. However, more can be done to improve our city's character by improving the political climate of Appleton. More can be done to publicize the advantages of Appleton. Appleton is a good place to live, and if it becomes a better place to live, industry would soon realize the advantages of our community.

5. What better use can be made of the city's "comprehensive plan?"

Much has already been done to implement parts of the Comprehensive City Plan. However, consideration has to be given to the need and cost of these improvements. Of prime importance in my ward should be an attempt through private incentives and investment to elimate and replace outmoded structures. My ward would be an ideal location for civic improvements and public buildings.

13th Ward

Thomas H? Tess, 28, 22 Crestview Court, holds a bachelor of science degree. Tess lists his qualifications as business experience in managerial and acquaintace with fast-paced industry.

1. Can you suggest more economical procedures for operating the city?

Basically Appleton has to readjust its administrative force to the size of the problem it has to handle. Establishment of a central administrative service and elimination of private secretaries and clerks for each city department is a basic and economical move. Office equipment likewise can be consolidated to serve all departments eliminating duplication of that equipment. Any talk of a new city hall ought to be dismissed in favor of a tasteful and practical rejuvenation of the present building. Many cities have thrown up stainless steel and glass buildings, but few have thought to preserve the traditional beauty of their older buildings.

2. On the basis of this year's experience with the executive budget, what suggestions would you have for budget procedures for subsequent years?

Consolidation of offices and equipment requires a corresponding consolidation of authority, particularly in budgetary control. Ideally, or under the most economical circumstances, all city departments, including the board of education, would be subject to this control. Although there are definite problems apparent in this system should the "executive" become irresponsible in his duty. There are checked by the voters' rights of election and recall.

3. What suggestions can you make for maintaining the present quality of education in our school while holding down the property tax rate?

The critical nature of this problem dictates the abandonment of current educational the current trends in wages and property tax continue, it wouldn't be so many years before the two cross. We must review our traditional approaches to education. Instead of our rushing to build new facilities, let's explore 12-month use of our current buildings. Should teachers' salaries and demands continue to rise, let's implement teaching machines to reach children on an individual basis and retain only the best teachers for class moniotring and special tutoring.

4. What suggestions do you have for bringing commerce and industry into corporate limits of Appleton?

The record of the past administration in forging Appleton into a commercial and industrial complex has been one of tremendous activity if not of tremendous success. Loss of the university site and regional airport facilities show that people in state and regional offices do NOT look at Appleton as a commercial and industrial hub. Considering the plight of such larger cities this consideration is not all bad. I do not look for Appleton to ever challenge Madison, Milwaukee or even Green Bay in growth in this area. Instead I see the city's ultimate role as a balanced industrial-commercial-residential community in the Green Bay to Oshkosh megalopolis. Any immediate increase in commercial and industrial growth will come from annexation.

5. What better use can be made of the city's "comprehensive plan?"

Everyone needs an over-all plan. The main point for proper execution of that plan is to have a plan to handle changes. At the pace of today's business and government a plan cast in concrete gets you to tour objective late and with outdated product. This is a dynamic time and plans though necessary must be able to be adapted to meet the times.

Glenn W. Thompson, 41, 1624 S. Walden Ave., is a high school graduate. Thompson, an incumbent, says his best qualification for alderman is that he enjoys handling the required duties.

1. Can you suggest more economical procedures for operating the city?

At the moment I cannot think of anything to suggest, however, I do firmly believe we should always keep vigil on all city operations and make certain that procedures now in effect should be rigidly adhered to. I am a strong advocate for centralized purchasing and would like to see this vigorously pursued within the immediate future.

2. On the basis of this year's experience with the executive budget, what suggestions would you have for budget procedures for subsequent years?

Our first experience with the executive budget obviously indicated the lack of experience of such a budget by all city officials. It appears to me that if we are to continue with this executive budget that a more clear-cut understanding of the procedure should be had. I firmly believe that the mayor should consult with all city officials and department heads prior to his submission of the budget. The budget should be completed in ample time prior to public hearing so that last minute changes would be unnecessary and confusion resulting from these last minute changes. After the public hearing the budget should be returned to the mayor for any revisions prior to final submission to the common council.

3. What suggestions can you make for manitaining the present quality of education in our schools while holding down the property tax?

Unless the board of education and the city officials learn to have a better understanding between themselves little can be accomplished. In other words we need improved harmony between school and city officials. The area of quality education is of prime importance and should always be considered in all deliberations. Costs for teacher salaries appears almost impossible to curb. I believe we should take a real look in to the cost of proposed construction of new facilities and whenever possible improve the curriculum to conform with the most modern teaching techniques and subjects available. I also believe the general public should become more involved with our school problems, not just at budget time.

4. What suggestions do you have for bringing commerce and industry into corporate limits of Appleton?

It is imperative that we have a trained labor force to attract industry. Land must be available within the corporate limits of Appleton. This does not mean to infer that we have a land bank each year of $200,000, however. The City of Appleton must create an image conducive to industry to come in and not with the impression of government red tape and take over of private enterprise. We must show publically progressive thinking, not conservatism.

5. What better use can we make of the city's "comprehensive plan?"

This comprehensive plan was established to give us definite guidelines. We should make better use of this plan with annual review of it. Where there are changes indicated, re-evaluation should be made as quickly as possible, especilaly with known proposed sites such as the city-county building now being considered. We must sell our ideas to surrounding units of government who in one way or another is affected by these proposals. Here too, a good relationship with our neighbors must be maintained!

James G. Vanden Boogaard, 33, 3010 E. Newberry St., is a high school graduate. Qualifications listed by Vanden Boogaard include 17 years as a local businessman, presidency of the American Federation of Government Employees and service in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

1. Can you suggest more economical procedures for operating the city?

I would suggest that if certain departments are combined into a single unit that some of the present supervisory posts could be eliminated. Further streamlining should be studied for all city operated agencies. I would also propose that economies could be found in the welfare operation of the city through better cooperation with religious, civic, state and federal agencies so that duplication of service, effort, support and conseling is avoided. At present, there are many agencies that help the disadvantaged with much overlapping of service. Sometimes the poor are confronted with so many people trying to help them that they must choose between one agency or another.

2. On the basis of this year's experience with the executive budget, what suggestions would you have for budget procedures for subsequent years?

In future years, if the executive budget procedure is continued, there should be ample time for reviewing the budget, time for public hearings, time for discussion, and time for the people to react to the budget proposals before the council must act on the budget. The council should be more actively involved in budget preparation, and questions should be asked of the requesting departments as to the nature of increased requests. Constant vigilance should be maintained of every penny that the various departments want and why they need the funds requested. Some thought should be given to the idea that certain departments should be decreased in size, and certain equipment not purchased and yet maintain needed service through more efficiency in operation.

3. What suggestions can you make for maintaining the present quality of education in our schools while holding down the property tax rate?

I feel that we should not maintain the present quality of education but should constantly work toward a better quality of education for our children. This can be accomplished and still maintain reasonable tax rates. At the present time the school board cannot do a reasonable job of running our schools because they face the certain doom of a budget cut by the city. I would suggest that the people and council members thoroughly look into the idea of forming a unified school district and eliminate the present city school district. This would mean that the people would elect the school board, and the board would be responsible for school funding as well as operation. The people, in an annual meeting, would have budget control and the people would have a chance to do something about fiscal matters in their schools There would be no loss of state and federal support for our schools and the schools could operate on a school year rather than calendar year basis. Furthermore it can be stated that the city council and the mayor cannot know the problems of the schools like members of the school board. I feel that school board members will be better able to perform their duties if they were responsible for the funding of the schools.

4. What suggestions do you have for bringing commerce and industry into the corporate limits of Appleton?

I feel that more attention should be given to the commercial and industrial firms who have been taxpayers for years. Local business and industry should be encouraged to expand their operations through incentives provided by the city. These incentives could include local training of workers, improved property protection, improved relationship between the city and the business sector, improved promotion of the city and its business and industry. New industry and business should be encouraged to come to the city, but they should be located in areas where city improvements already exist whenever possible.

5. What better use can be made of the city's "comprehensive plan?"

The comprehensive plan was adopted to provide an orderly and realistic way to expand and bring order out of chaotic development of the city This is good but not necessarily humane. To me, people and their feelings are more important than strict adherence to the adopted plan written by a commercial firm I feel that whenever the plan is in conflict with the interest of the people, the people should be considered first.

I believe a plan is necessary and should be followed with the understanding that all humanitarian aspects should be considered before final action is taken on each circumstance. Rigid adherence to a plan does not always lead to the development of a city with a character of its own. Do we want our own city or a commercial firm's idea of a city?

County Asked to Assume Appleton Welfare Program

Mayor George Buckley Friday formally requested Outagamie County to take over city welfare department operations.

It was made in a request to Sylvester Esler, chairman of the Outagamie County Board.

Buckley asked the matter of the county assuming all city welfare administration be considered by the county board at its next meeting

"In view of the fact that over half of the Wisconsin counties already have voted to abolish the unit (local) system of welfare operations, would you kindly regard this as a formal request to bring the matter to a vote by the county board," Buckley wrote Esler.

Kaukauna Youth Fined For Being Disorderly, Driving Without Lights

Fines totaling $35 plus costs were levied Friday against Randall R. Fieck, 18, route 1, Kaukauna, who pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct and failing to have his headlights on at night.

Appleton police said they stopped Fieck in the 100 block of W. College Avenue about 3 a.m. Feb. 23.

Fieck, according to police, was in his car, following his wife who was walking on the sidewalk, and was shouting at her. His car headlights were not on.

Police advised Fieck to leave the area, but he refused and became argumentative.

Judge Nick F. Schaefer fined Fieck $25 for disorderly conduct and $10 on the charge of driving without lights.

Pakistani Dictator Retires

The decision of President Mohammad Ayub Khan to relinquish his control over the government of Pakistan and have "free and fair elections in the best traditions of democracy" is an amazing one. For in effect a man who seized power through a military coup ten years ago and who brought a considerable amount of economic prosperity to Pakistan has been defeated because his gradual moves toward some sort of democracy were either too slow or considered frauds by a great many Pakistanis.

It was obvious that despite the economic progress, there were few advances in the conditions of the poor. The literacy rate remained appallingly low. President Ayub had managed to retain almost a feudal society and his constitution simply didn't change the situation. And yet in a nation with so many people politically unsophisticated, the growing opposition, revealed in demonstrations and violence, gave President Ayub only two choices: to put down all opposition by force or to withdraw. It is suspected that the military leaders were among those who told him he must take the latter course.

Undoubtedly there is still a considerable amount of maneuvering going on. President Ayub just released from military custody the East Pakistani leader, Sheik Mujibur Rehman, and there have been suggestions that the sheik might seek the presidency with Mr. Ayub's backing. But Sheik Mujibur has in the past stood for a strong parliamentary system with the president a mere figurehead and members of the parliament and the prime minister thus directly responsible to the people. President Ayub has spoken of a popular election of a president, similar to the French system, with the president retaining considerable authority.

And yet despite President Ayub's apparent failure, his ten years in office cannot really be so labeled. The first time in its history that Pakistan was to have elections was in 1957 when the plans were detoured by a parliament deciding to perpetuate itself in power instead. Two years later General Ayub seized power in a military coup. If the elections now go through and there is not general chaos in Pakistan, President Ayub may have made greater progress toward democracy than he believed.

Soviet Sovereignty Cracking

The Russian and other Warsaw Pact troops who marched into Czechoslovakia last fall shook up the Communist world as much as they did other nations. Now there appears to be a growing Communist opposition to the Soviet idea of "limited sovereignty" of its satellites.

There continues to be resistance in Czecho-lovakia despite the pleas for acceptance by the Czech government members who fear an Hungarian type of repression. The press and information office issues directives of censorship but still there have been articles criticizing the secret police, Soviet troops and even neo-Stalinism, which seems to have taken over the Kremlin.

But even more noticeable is the resistance to Russian pressure in other Eastern European countries, even East Germany.

The most vocal opponents are President Tito of Yugoslavia and President Ceausescu of Romania. Romania has continued to refuse to join Comecon, the Soviet version of the Common Market. After meeting Tito in a Romanian border recently, Ceausescu spoke out against "limited sovereignty". Now the Romanian press comments on that concept almost daily.

A message to the Danish Communist Party upheld "the right of each and every party independently to establish its political line by applying the general truths of Marxism-Leninism to the concrete conditions in the respective country." And Romanian and Yugoslavian Communist leaders met with Italian Communists who have been the Western party leaders most in opposition to the Soviet invasion.

Failing to encourage Romania to join Comecon, the Russians have been trying to persuade the Hungarians and East Germans. But the Hungarians apparently have had second thoughts about their part in the invasion and have stalled joining by asking for a convertible currency in any Comecon deal. The East Germans are frankly fearful that joining Comecon might interfere with the growing trade with West Germany.

There is even dissention in Russia itself. Several Russians have been sentenced to prison for protesting the invasion or petitioning for the release of the dissenters. But at one recent trial, the accused and convicted Irini Belgorodskaya was showered with flowers from her friends as she left the courtroom where the trial was held in secret.

The world parley of Communist parties to be held in three months may turn out to be quite interesting. And the Russians may regret that they insisted upon the conference, for it may reveal the breadth and depth of the split among the world's Communists.

How Draft Boards Work

The ways of Selective Service boards are sometimes unfathomable.

David Carlson graduated from Iowa State University last June and joined the Peace Corps. He was sent to Saipan, an island in the Mariana chain. His specialty is architecture and he was helping the islander build homes that would withstand the destructive Pacific typhoons.

But the Des Moines draft board determined that Carlson must leave Saipan before he's two years were up and report for induction early in March.

The islanders were appalled. They wrote to the board, "We have worked and saved to build a village center and typhoon shelter . . . Dave is showing us what to do and we will do the work. If Dave leaves, we will not be able to finish and all our work and money will be wasted."

The board answered that it was "of the opinion your request does not justify reopening the registrant's classification. . ."

Draft boards do not have easy decisions to make. Each request for deferment must be weighed according to regulations and the individual case.

And yet this one seems so obvious. In his role on Saipan, Carlson will not only help the natives protect themselves and their homes from typhoons; he will improve the image of the United States, the prestige of our educational system, the respect of other people for us, all of which could do with some improvement right now. It is hard to see how carrying a gun in Vietnam or manning a typewriter in some army post can compare in importance.

Looking Backward

Republicans Woo Foreign-Born

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for March 6, 1869.

As if by concerted scheme, the Jacobin (Republicans) of Wisconsin are "filling and coaxing" to attract Germans and Irishmen into their nets; they have cut for them their party representative in Congress concocting amendments to the Naturalization laws designed to prevent any person born on foreign soil from obtaining rights of American Citizenship except through the United State Courts.

If this scheme is framed into laws of the land . . . and the House Radical caucus pronounced in its favor many weeks ago . . . the man who desires to be naturalized will be compelled to go to Milwaukee or Madison to do so.

Such is the real animus of Jacobinism. Even when you see one of the model Jacobin aristocrats meet a foreigner, though the latter may belong to his party, you can tell at once that there is a slumbering contempt felt for the foreigner, albeit half hidden.

Supreme Court Has Ruled On School Reimbursement

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

In the February 23 issue of The Post-Crescent a letter appeared from Herman Weinberger stating that the tuition reimbursement bill sponsored by the Citizens for Educational Freedom for assistance to parents of private school students is unconstitutional.

I believe the Wisconsin Supreme Court has settled this question already. After the First World War, the Wisconsin Legislature passed a G. I. Bill to assist soldiers who had served in that war to continue their education, including high schools with a religious affiliation. The bill was contested before the Wisconsin Supreme Court.

In its decision (Atwood vs. Johnson, 170 Wis. 251 — 1920) the Court stated in its finding:

"The contention that financial benefit accrues to religious schools from the act is equally untenable. Only actual increased cost to such schools occasioned by the attendance of beneficiaries is to be reimbursed. They are not enriched by the service they render. Mere reimbursement is not aid."

It appears, therefore, that the Wisconsin Supreme Court has already answered Mr. Weinberger's contention. The C. E. F. Bill is a reimbursement measure for public services performed — educating the youth of this state. "Mere reimbursement is not aid."

Lunar Excursion Module Is Flimsy, Ungainly-Looking Space Vehicle

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's an ungainly - looking craft, like a fat bug with antennae for feelers and portholes for eyes. It is the only major piece of apollo hardware that has not been flown by man in space.

"It" is the lunar excursion module — LEM to its friends' — and it is the American moon landing ship, a spindley-legged craft which eventually will ferry two astronauts to the lunar surface.

Apollo 9 astronauts, Air Force Lt. Cols. James A. McDivitt and David R. Scott and civilian astronaut Russell L. Schweickart, give it a practical tryout in a 10-day orbiting trip next week. They'll not actually land on the moon, but if the Apollo 9 mission succeeds, only one more preliminary flight is planned before that historic feat is attempted.

VERY FLIMSY CRAFT

McDivitt, who will command the Apollo 9 flight, spoke of the LEM as "a very flimsy craft — like a tissue paper spacecraft. If we're not careful, we could easily put a foot through it." Nor is it designed for comfort: there aren't any seats in it. The two men who pilot it must do so standing up.

The LEM will be launched into space by the same Saturn 5 rocket carrying the Apollo 9. McDivitt, Scott and Schweickart will ride in the main Apollo ship, with the LEM resting in an adapter section between the third stage and the spaceship.

Once in orbit, the astronauts will link up with the LEM and McDivitt and Schweickart will crawl into it through a connecting tunnel.

Then they'll separate, move up to 110 miles away, and practice rendezvous and docking maneuvers with Scott in the main Apollo ship.

Plans also call for Schweickart to take a two-hour space walk, in which he'll transfer from the LEM to Apollo and back again. This is to rehearse an emergency in which passage through the tunnel is impossible.

The space walk is planned the third day of the trip and also will serve to evaluate the suit that later astronauts will wear while strolling on the moon.

BACK PACK SUPPORT

Schweickart will slip through the LEM's open outside hatch, feet first, carrying on his back a portable life support system, filled with oxygen. He'll grab a handrail on the left side of the LEM hatch and then sit on the top rung of a ladder on the side of the module.

He'll have a standard movie camera with him and will be photographed himself by Scott.

Only the space walker's grasp on the hand rail and a 25-foot safety line attached to him from the LEM will keep the astronaut from floating away. He'll slip his feet into glass fiber restraining devices on the LEM — "golden slippers" — and rest before beginning the transfer to the command ship.

He'll make his way hand over hand along rails to the command module hatch, slip inside so Scott can grab his leg, then return to the LEM.

The actual transfer is expected to take only 20 minutes, but Schweickart will be outside two hours, including rest periods and picture-taking.

If all goes well, Apollo 10 is set for a May 17 launching and Apollo 11 — the planned moon landing flight — will be attempted in mid-July.

What's So Wrong With Being Right?

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

So Prof. Walter F. Peterson protested the appearance of Alan Stang in Appleton! Just what do the protestors among college professors and students on America's campuses stand for anyway? I remember no such protest when Herbert Aptheker, the No. 2 Communist in America, spoke at Lawrence. Why?

So the Rotarians were the "unwitting dupes of the John Birch Society." — Undoubtedly Prof. Peterson intends in his statement a blanket attack on the John Birch Society which he associates with the "far right" as well as an attack on Alan Stang.

First, what's wrong with being "right"? It is suggested Mr. Peterson might peruse some "history in the making" during the past decade. If he checks on the conviction of criminals for treason against the U. S., or found to be subversives by the House Un-American Activities Committee, he will find that all were members of some "leftist" group — never from the "right."

Now about Alan Stang, the man. He is no armchair protestor, but was actually at the New York riots, the Southwest disturbances, and right in the sea of violence during the Chicago riots. He reported first-hand experiences to a very attentive audience of about 350 at the Columbus Club Tuesday night, Feb. 18. You could have heard a pin drop for the entire time this good American spoke. My only regret is that his audience wasn't 3500.

Mayor Buckley, my personal thanks to you for your part in helping other Rotarians to hear Alan Stang. You have proven yourself many times as a friend of the majority of good Americans in Appleton. Keep up the good work.

Now about the John Birch Society which has been attacked on many fronts over the years. These attacks are all similar — blanket smearing attacks — but never a specific refutation against the principals the John Birch Society upholds. Let's name just three: 1. Support your Local Police, 2. Impeach Earl Warren, 3. Stop and rout the international Communist conspiracy through truth and education.

By attacking the John Birch Society, does Prof. Peterson object to supporting our local police? Does he feel that the Warren Supreme Court decisions which freed convicted Communists and criminals on technicalities, and put handcuffs on our police instead, were good for America? Or that Communists can now hold key positions in our labor unions, in our defense plants, and cannot be fired as teachers in our schools and universities?

As a history professor, can't Mr. Peterson recognize the current surfacing of all the Communist-inspired efforts so fully covered in FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover's warnings — always ahead of time? Like W. E. Dubois Clubs, SDS etc. and, of course, Gus Hall's and Herbert Aptheker's Communist Party itself? Evidently Mr. Peterson has never heard of the 1963 report of the Senate fact-finding subcommittee on UnAmerican activities of the California Legislature which stated: "Our investigation and study was requested by the John Birch Society which had been publicly charged with being a secret Fascist, subversive, UnAmerican Anti-Semitic organization. We have not found any of these accusations to be supported by the evidence."

Wisconsin Report

Knowles Likely Would Veto Any Punitive Measures Against UW

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Predictably, the ruckus at the University of Wisconsin has brought a rash of bills in the legislature in the way of retribution against disruptive students, sympathetic faculty, and to some degree, the University as an institution.

Some of these are probably

publicity maneuvers. They are calculated to persuade the disturbed constituents of these men — and there surely are many — that they are on the alert and determined that riots and demonstrations and strikes and related activities of dissatisfied students won't happen again.

Measures such as these have very little chance of enactment.

Even if they pass muster in both legislative houses, which is doubtful, they are likely to run into a veto by Gov. Knowles, who has carefully defined his own position on the matter. He wants stronger enforcement of existing rules against disruptive students, but beyond that he is not likely to go. If his comments about the university administration recently mean anything, they must be taken to mean that he will be unwilling to do anything radical or punitive with respect to the institution itself, aside from the handful of unruly and unthinking dissidents who have brought about the commotion lately.

WOULD CANCEL TENURE

Perhaps the most harmful of the proposals, with all deference to the provocation felt by its authors, is that which would cancel the tenure system for university faculties.

Such an act would be the equivalent of repealing the state civil service act, which would be inconceivable, and if even obliquely suggested, would make Wisconsin notorious in the eyes of the country.

There may be faults in the present faculty tenure rule, which gives a teacher security of employment after a probationary period, but they won't be remedied by getting rid of it altogether. There is no readily visible reason why the rules on tenure should be different in the two university systems, for example. But that could be easily cleared up with a simple statute which doubtless would be accepted by the institutions affected without serious question.

WOULD BLACKEN STATE

But to suggest that tenure be abolished entirely would undermine the whole system of university staffing, bring about the wholesale departure of university teachers, make recruiting virtually impossible in a country where tenure is accepted almost universally, and blacken this state in the eyes of the American academic community.

Another proposal that reflects more anger than thought would make it possible for the Legislative Finance Committee to cut off the pay of any university employe "for reasonable cause," whatever that might be.

There have been serious reservations about the "open door" policy of the Wisconsin university systems with respect to non-resident admissions, at a time of painfully difficult financing of skyrocketing university budgets. That there should be a limitation is generally accepted, as shown by the rule imposed not long ago by the Coordinating Council for Higher Education.

CAN BE EVALUATED

Now a group of legislators, choosing at random, suggests an even more restrictive rule providing for a maximum of 15 per cent of nonresident undergraduate enrollment. Another measure arbitrarily proposes that nonresident tuition be five times that of resident charges. Both of such questions can better be evaluated in the more judicious atmosphere of the new Kellett Committee which will soon begin work surveying the state's educational system as a whole. They surely will be so evaluated.

Perhaps the most demonstrable consensus on what is a justifiable legislative response to the student-wrought troubles on the campuses favors some action to punish the wrong-doers. Gov. Knowles has endorsed the idea. No doubt a majority of the people of Wisconsin will, upon reflection.

A starting point may be the bill — sponsored by the same group of anxious university critics — that would suspend all forms of public aid, loans or scholarships or whatever, to any student who has violated a lawful rule or regulation of his college or university, or taken part in any disruptive activity, or has been convicted of a crime arising out of a college disturbance or participated in a riot.

Of all of the angry measures prompted in legislative halls, such a bill probably has the best chance of enactment.

Candidate Explains Why He Didn't Reply to League

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

You cannot imagine how appalled I was when I read in The Post-Crescent March 25, 1968 where, "City Assessor School Board Candidates List Qualifications." After William F. Arnold in even bolder type than other candidates listed it stated, "Candidate for City Assessor did not respond." I informed two league members that I would not answer the questionnare and would not attend the meeting, but I would answer publicly in the Bargain Bulletin. I cannot in all good conscience participate with this organization and here are the reasons why.

(1) When the league endorsed appointive positions in this city in 1966 they went against my democratic ideals and any citizens right to seek public office. I feel very strongly that even though the appointive positions are not always policy making positions these elected officials have daily contact with the citizens of Appleton. Elective positions promote honest, conscientious service, and closer contact with the citizens they serve.

(2) When I attended a Women's Voters League rally in 1966 the statement was made in front of the group that anyone could join the league but only the women could vote in this organization. I feel as a candidate that by going to any organizational meeting of any group that is political in nature but will not leave the men vote in the group even though he could be a member is discrimination by sex. Therefore how in all good conscience can I attend a political meeting where half of the people that I would want to represent in my estimation would be discriminated against. The men of America gave the right to vote to women over 49 years ago but cannot vote in this organization because of sex.

(3) When the league endorsed appointive positions in this city they lost the right to judge any candidates on a neutral basis, therefore I cannot attend any meeting or answer any questions submitted to me, for by doing so I would in effect give their organization my endorsement that they would have the right to question any candidate's right to seek any political position.

(4) It is our right as free Americans to participate in free open elections. Any restrictive qualifications means all are not equal for who can judge and who is qualified to judge? In a democracy only the governed through elections.

Xavier Still Champions Here in Own Backyard

Editor, The Post-Crescent:

The light that never fails went out in the Green Bay Arena Saturday night. Appleton Xavier, undefeated in 22 games, went down to the wire, but lost their hopes and dreams of going to state, with a one point loss. This game will be played and replayed in the hearts and minds of a great amount of people for a long tome to come. But all the talking will never change the score. Although I am an outsider, I know none of the boys on the team, but I did go to grade school with their coach. I feel compelled to comment on the attitude and reaction this loss will have on this team. They will stand tall, as always, because their years of training and playing together as a team, under the able and brilliant leadership of Torchy Clark has made them a No. 1 team in more ways than one in the Fox River Valley. When the state tournament is over, we still have our own champions right here at home.

Your Problems

Ann Takes Teen's Side of This Argument

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Boys asked me for dates when I was 13½ but I was smart enough to know I was too young. When I was 14½ I felt ready to date but my folks didn't. I agreed to wait until I was 15.

My 15th birthday is next month and I already have five dates lined up. Now my folks say I can date but I can't car date. Most of the guys I know have driving permits or full licenses. To tell a fellow we have to go by bus, or worse yet, ask his dad or my dad to drive us is horrible. I'd rather stay home.

Should a 15-year-old girl have to abide by such a dumb rule? — Suffering Kitten

Dear Suff: A girl who has permission to date should be allowed to go in whatever kind of transportation a responsible fellow provides.

A decent girl will behave — car or no car.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Because our mother was strict, my sister decided to let her children have what she calls a "pleasant childhood." By this she means, allow them to run wild and act like animals. I hate to be the mean aunt and yell at them so I keep quiet.

They had dinner here Sunday. After they left I had to scrub the floor, clean the rug, wash the walls and, would you believe, there was food on the ceiling? I had to get a ladder and wash up there, too.

The boys are very destructive. I wouldn't leave them alone with the canary for a minute. Once I caught them as they were just about to throw the cat out of the second story window to see if cats always land on their feet.

I can't tell my sister to stay home till her kids grow up, yet whenever they leave I have two hours of cleaning up to do. Any advice? — No Laughing Matter

Dear No: My advice is be the "mean aunt." They won't dislike you. They'll respect you. Make it clear that they must behave in your house. Also, have some games on hand — coloring books, crayolas, things to keep them occupied. Bored kids are mischievous kids.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I want to protest in the name of people who do not smoke. I'm not an old fussbudget with high-top shoes. I'm 22 years old, I wear false eyelashes and I drive a red Impala.

My desk is located between two chain smokers. My clothes reek of smoke. My hair smells like I spent two weeks in a poker game. My eyes burn every night when I leave the office.

King James of England put it beautifully in the 17th century. He said, "Smoking is a custom loathsome to the eye, hateful to the nose, harmful to the brain, dangerous to the lungs, and the black stinking fumes, thereof nearest resembling the horrible smoke of hell."

If you print this I'll bet thousands of people clip it and leave it for some miserable character to see — Smokehouse Secretary

Dear Sec: Here it is and I am going to leave a few copies around myself.

Rome Police Recover School From Students

ROME (AP) — Moving in three waves, about 4,000 riot police took possession of the Rome University campus early today after demonstrations during the visit of President Nixon. More riots are expected before his return to Rome Sunday to meet with Pope Paul VI.

The police dislodged 20 students they found occupying the university.

Most of the 2,000 students who had been barricaded inside the school buildings in the past week as a token force had gone home to sleep.

Police braced for more street troubles today. Vatican City police began their precautionary measures to keep dissidents in hand during Nixon's visit Sunday.

Helicopter to Vatican

The President arrives at Rome's Fiumcino airport then takes a helicopter to the Vatican landing in St. Peter's Square. It is possible that he will be completely shut off from any possible demonstrations. Vatican officials said today it will be the first time a dignitary has entered the Vatican by an aerial landing.

Many people believe that the demonstrations Thursday and Friday weren't so much anti-Nixon as they were an occasion for students to vent their frustrations against the government of Premier Mariano Rumor.

But the government and Rome authorities, busy with preparations for Nixon's visit, had refrained from intervening at the university until today.

The running battles that police and students fought Thursday night left more than 10 injured. One student was killed when he fell from an upper story of an occupied university building.

Talks Continue In Cordiality

a ceremonial country estate of French presidents.

The two men met in an office overlooking the gardens of Versailles. The interpreters were the only other men in the room for 93 minutes.

Then French Premier Maurice Couve de Murville joined them for a second round lasting 25 minutes. That, in turn, gave way to an expanded conference with six advisors joining each president.

The advisers included Secretary of State William P. Rogers and French Foreign Minister Michel Debre.

Late Afternoon

After a luncheon and a stroll through the Versailles gardens, the expanded talks were to continue until late afternoon.

Nixon drove from Paris in a White House limousine along streets cleared of traffic. There were no big crowds in the city, only a few curious passers-by.

In the Bois de Boulogne, a forested park along the route, uniformed French police stood guard on the deserted roadside and among the trees.

At the gate to the vast palace grounds, a cluster of Versailles townspeople stood watching, and the President saw a familiar sign: "Nixon's the one." That was his campaign slogan.

Security was stringent, with cordons of police, some with watchdogs, patrolling the palace grounds.

Marble Entrance

De Gaulle met Nixon at the red marble entrance, the two shook hands and entered at once.

Tours of the main Versailles Palace, about a mile away, were suspended for the day.

Nixon was said to feel, after his two hours of talks with De Gaulle Friday night, that the conversations here were off to a "good start." Ziegler, quoting him to that effect, said the first meeting had been in a "frank and cordial atmosphere," and the French spokesman echoed this.

Bad Weather Delays Flight Of Concorde

TOULOUSE, France (AP) — The maiden flight of the Western world's first supersonic airliner, the British-French Concorde, was postponed today due to unfavorable winds. If the weather improves, the first flight may be made Sunday, officials said.

Because Toulouse officials refuse to allow the untested plane to fly over the city, the huge four-engine jet can take off in only one direction from its specially constructed runway.

After the weatherman reported early today that winds were not favorable, the bald, 47-year-old Andre Turcat, one of the world's most respected test pilots, canceled plans for the 45-minute morning flight. Officials at first said an afternoon flight was possible, but that too was canceled as 21-mile-per-hour gusts swept across the runway.

Turcot and his three-man crew have said they would take the plane up for the first time only if the weather is near perfect.

The first test flight originally was scheduled a year and a day ago but was postponed because the plane wasn't ready. This gave the Soviet Union a chance to launch the world's first supersonic airliner, the Tupolev 144, last Dec. 31.

The American supersonic airliner being built by Boeing is still on the drawing board and subject to re-evaluation by the Nixon administration. It is generally believed to be five years behind the Concorde in development, one reason some 16 airlines have taken options to buy 74 Concordes.

Wooden Ice Cream Spoons Used to Play 'Hurdle' Game

BY CAPPY DICK

Hurdles is a form of tiddlywinks The equipment is easily made from wooden ice cream spoons out of which to cut the hurdle-jumpers and the levers that make them leap

Figure 1 shows how to cut these two parts from such a spoon Use a nickel as the pattern for the disk which is the jumper (see the dotted circular line in figure 1) Place the coin on the flat bow of the spoon and trace around it With scissors cut the disk out of the wood If rough edges remain smooth them with sandpaper The lever is cut from the handle of the spoon as shown by the curved dotted line in figure 1

Each player should have one lever and several disks With crayons or paints color the lever and disks of each set One set may be red another blue and so on

When disks and levers have been prepared you are ready to play the game For a hurdle stand two books next to each other as the boy has done in figure 2 Place them about 18 inches from the edges of the table Put a disk at the edge of the table and by pressing the round end of the lever on the very edge of the disk snap it so it leaps forward With practice you will be able to flip the disk high enough and far enough to sail it over the hurdle without touching the books That's worth 10 points

Snap the Disk

If the disk strikes the hurdle, but nevertheless goes over you earn five points On the other hand if the disk fails to go over the hurdle five points are deducted from your score The first player to reach 50 points wins the game

The players should take turns snapping them disks Monday Lots more Good Fun Every Boy and Girl!

NM Red Cross Chapters Merge; Fund Drive Begun

NEENAH - MENASHA — After more than five decades in separate operation the Neenah and Menasha American Red Cross chapters merged together today and began a fund drive with a goal of $28,530.

The newly-formed Twin Cities chapter will serve both cities and townships. Its facilities will be located in the second floor of the Menasha Post Office, until suitable and more centrally-located quarters can be found.

During March, the traditional month for American Red Cross solicitation for members and funds, contributions will be made to the merged chapter.

52 Years Apart

This means an end to 52 years of separate Red Cross chapters in Neenah and Menasha.

Of the $28,530 sought this month, $15,920 will be used for the Twin Cities chapter services to residents, while $12,610 will be earmarked for Red Cross use nationally.

Local services last year included emergency help for 1,100 Neenah and Menasha servicemen and family members; training of more than 1,700 residents in first aid; water safety; small craft and nursing skills, and issuance of 73 instructor certificates.

700 Volunteers

More than 700 volunteers in both cities worked last year in hospitals, nursing homes and during blood collections because of funds collected during the fund drive.

The joined chapters hope to make further economies possible to the Twin City communities and provide more efficient service to residents, a vital concern since the American Red Cross will be faced with a critical financial situation in 1969, according to oficials.

The spiraling costs of meeting the needs of servicemen in Vietnam, coupled with an unprecedented number of national and international disasters plus refugee relief operations have boosted the national fund goal to $128,050,700.

The funds will be raised this month through local chapters throughout the country.

Drive Chairmen

Richard Rowsler will serve this year as the general chairman of the Twin Cities chapter.

Other chairmen in the chapter include John Schmerein, corporate gifts; William Fieweger, special gifts; Bernard Aadee, business chairman, Neenah; John Heinsoh, business chairman, Menasha; Burt Spafford, residential chairman, Neenah; Mrs. Thomas Weede, town chairman east (Menasha), Mrs. James Blackwell, town chairman west (Menasha); Mrs. Kenneth Drace, Town of Neenah chairman; Mrs. Frank Fawcett, residential chairman, Menasha. William J. Giese, chairman of attorneys; Leo Pfister, chairman of clubs and organizations; Marvin Gegan, chairman of schools, Menasha, and Dr. William J. Baumann, chairman of dentists.

Stratified Instructional Unit

New Teaching Methods at Jefferson

MENASHA — A stratified instructional unit, basically a combination of the first grade and transitional first grade, will be initiated Monday at Jefferson Elementary School, according to Frank Parsons, principal.

The program, an attempt to provide more individualized and concentrated training for the pupils, will deal with the language arts only, Parsons said.

In setting up the program, Parsons and the two participating teachers, Mrs. Rose Terry and Mrs. Jeannette Fitzgerald, looked at the strong points of similar programs now in operation throughout the state.

Team Teaching

For basic points, including graded and non-graded training, departmentalized instruction and team teaching will be incorporated, Parsons said.

The graded approach, he explained, provides the traditional teaching technique of one teacher and one class. This enables the student to identify with one teacher. It also helps the teacher learn the strong and weak points and problems of a child, Parsons said.

The non-graded technique will be used to an extent that pupils from other grades will participate in the stratified unit, Parsons said.

Along with the 20 transitional first graders and the 32 first graders, one kindergartener, three second graders and two third graders will participate, Parsons said.

He pointed out that the program is very flexible. Students may be added or taken from the unit according to their work ability, he said.

A third technique included in the program will be departmentalized instruction, usually found in junior and senior high schools, Parsons said.

Academic Strengths

This will permit the two teachers to instruct subjects they are most familiar with. Teachers have academic strengths, Parsons said, and the program will allow the teachers to work with these strengths.

The final teaching tool used in the program will be team teaching, a relatively new method, but becoming common in many schools.

Parsons explained that both teachers will instruct during certain segments of the program, while at other times, the Pupils will break into working ability groups.

This technique also will enable one teacher to plan instruction, while another teaches the group.

Expanded Next Fall

Parsons said he hoped the stratified instructional unit could be expanded to the second and third grade classes next fall.

The stratified unit is planned for the morning. During the afternoon students attend their regular classes to study other academic courses such as social stidies and science.

Putting the program into action has required little expense, Parsons said.

County Awaits Land Deal for Park Purposes

OSHKOSH — Winnebago State Hospital is ready to close the transaction for 65 acres of land with Winnebago County and the acquisition will bring the county up to about half way in its total needed space

Two years ago the legislature paved the way to make 65 acres of the state hospital grounds, located south of the picnic point site, available to the county for park development The county board approved the purchase of this land at $300 per acre and most of the details have been worked out over the past 12 months

In a letter to the county park committee this week, the state hospital advised that it would be ready to complete the sale and only a few items remained to be settled.

Paul Theis, business manager at WSH, asked that a joint meeting be held to determine the proper fencing for the new park site, the location of the entrance and exit areas at the south end of the property; hunting and fishing restrictions, whether the state prison farm can crop the land in 1969; dumping restrictions; who is to retain the storm sewer easement, if utilities service can be provided across the property to picnic point camp site and if further development of the land will involve an electrical hookup to state hospital facilities

Since the county was told by the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission three years ago that it had the fewest acres of park and recreational land per person of the eight counties in the commission, county supervisors have stepped up their park plans

357 Acres

In 1967, the county owned 32 acres of recreational land It purchased 262 acres of the county hospital farm that year and when it purchases the 65 acres from the state hospital, it will own 357 acres.

The commission proposed that the county needed 800 acres to serve its residents. It further advised that by 1980 there would be 32,500 persons in the county seeking swimming facilities, compared with an estimated 15,000 now in search of swimming beaches on any given summer Sunday

Faculty Goes Over List With Tarr

LU Black Student Demands to be Aired

BY RICHARD JACOBSON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Lawrence University officials and black student representatives are contemplating additional meetings to discuss a list of demands presented by the Negroes to President Curtis W. Tarr this week.

Thirteen of the 20 black students enrolled at the university who signed the demands expressed their dissatisfaction with the existing social and academic situation for blacks on the campus and called for reforms to be instituted by the administration.

The other seven Negro students on the campus who did not sign the demands do not recognize the Association of Afro-Americans as spokesman for the black students.

Tarr reviewed the 10 demands and discussed each with faculty members during their regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon.

No Timetable

Later in the evening the outgoing president and newly appointed assistant secretary of the Air Force met with Elzie Williams, Negro student spokesman, and other delegates to deliberate the administration's answer to the demands.

Although no definite timetable was established for the implementation of the demands or other compromises between the interests involved, Tarr told The Post-Crescent today that additional meetings with the Negro students and administration are contemplated.

The demands presented to Tarr on Monday are as follows:

Black Demands

—The matriculation of 50 black students in the class of 1973; 10 upperclassmen transfers and 40 freshmen.

—The conversion of Raymond House (honors dorm for men) as a cultural center and a dormitory for black students and the construction of another building for female black students as soon as possible.

—A one-year period of academic grace for black students

—A black advisory system for freshmen with black upper-classmen serving as advisers.

—A black student representative to LUCC (Lawrence University Community Council).

Soul Food

—Soul food in the dining hall.

—The immediate search for a black dean subject to the approval of the Afro-Americans.

—A representative of black students on the Admissions Committee.

—The incorporation of black courses into the curriculum.

—The appointment of a new committee (the committee on black student affairs) with Mr. Martinez (Huge Martinez, associate professor of Spanish) as chairman with the faculty members selected by the Afro-Americans and approved by the president.

Tarr told the black students Friday night that the university faculty Friday approved courses "which should be of interest to black students."

These include the inclusion of black history courses, prior to and after the Civil War; American race relations; slavery and the old South; American literature; urban politics and government courses; the welfare state, 1889-1929, and others dealing with the Negro's involvement in American history.

Tarr said "White Institutions and Black Americans" will be given again next fall." He mentioned that the economics department intends to offer two courses related to urban economics and manpower economics, both of which will deal with racial problems.

On Monday the black students told Tarr that the university should decide on whoat courses to implement. "The history department had taken the initiative of hiring an instructor next year who can deal specifically with the contribution of Negroes to American life," Tarr told the Negro students.

Soul food has been served in the Downer Center dining area. Tuesday of this week, 70 students went through the cafeteria line for food, 14 of whom were black students, a university spokesman said.

"Its continuing availability will depend upon two factors Tarr said. He said help would be needed in planning menus and there has to be a demand for it.

Advisory System

Tarr told the blacks he did not disagree with the demand for the advisory system. "It's my understanding that the system. . .is for freshman and would be voluntary both for freshmen and upperclassmen, and supplement the regular system of faculty advising," Tarr said.

The president said the school already has begun a search for a black person to serve as dean in Marshall Hulbert's (vice-president) office. Tarr said the Board of Trustees has to give final approval.

On the demand for academic grace, Tarr informed the Negroes that "something should be done in this matter." He said recommendations are upcoming, mentioning that "our present working policy provides a year of grace for freshmen" and "virtually all students who leave in their first year do so voluntarily."

No Authority

Tarr said he does not have the authority to determine representation of the LUCC. Representatives are elected by vote of the students and faculty.

He also told the black students that he would request that the admissions committee consider black students appointments so that members can submit recommendations to the faculty when new appointments are made "in a few weeks."

"The problem of housing brings into conflict several hopes," Tarr noted. He said black students at the university will have the. . ."fullest opportunity to communicate and give each other mutual support."

He promised the black students he would be willing to discuss living arrangements in Raymond House.

"I also will discuss with you the possibility of black students living together in one part of a residence hall if they care to do so," Tarr explained.

The president said he has no objections to the creation of a new cmmittee to study black students' problems.

New Grand Chute Petition

Annexation Trend Continues To Eat Away at Town Land

Two of the Fox Valley's more urbanized towns — Grand Chute near Appleton and Ashwaubenon at Green Bay's back door — are losing area, people and tax based to the cities.

The most dramatic voluntary annexation announcement came this past week from the Fort Howard Paper Co., which said it was petitioning to become a part of Green Bay rather than stay in the Town of Ashwaubenon.

The move took town officials by surprise and will cost the town more than $650,000 in property tax income. Ashwaubenon this year has a tax of $59.84 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Property the company wants annexed into Green Bay has a valuation of about $11 million on the town tax roll.

It has been estimated the town will lose about one-third of its tax base with the Fort Howard Paper detachment.

There also have been similar but not as significant developments in the Appleton area.

A week ago about 170-acre area was detached from Grand Chute and became a part of Appleton's far northwest side. Included in the annexation instigated by property owners was area being planned for a shopping center and an apartment building complex, plus about 100 electors in a residential district.

Following on the heels of that annexation was disclosure Friday that more Town of Grand Chute residents recently circulated an annexation petition and filed it with the city clerk's office.

The area being requested to be taken into Apoleton consists of 70 acres, including the Highland Park Memorial Cemetery.

The latest voluntary annexation extends from a point just south of the cemetery and proceeds north on the west side of Richmond Street to a point past Capitol Drive — about 300 feet from U.S. 41.

After the petition was filed with the legally-required number of signatures, the board of public works met and adopted a resolution to formally accept the annexation request.

The annexation resolution will be up for adoption at Wednesday night's city council meeting.

Three Weeks

City Atty. David Geenen said within three weeks the 70 acres would officially be a part of Appleton. Some of the area is developed, but the majority of the land is not.

In another development, a representative of the Milwaukee-based Fire Insurance Rating Bureau informed Appleton Fire Chief Roland Kuehnl that town areas coming into the city can expect reduced fire insurance premium rates in the future.

As soon as the annexations become effective, the areas are provided all city services, including police and fire protection.

Electric Utilities Seek PSC Okay for Transmission Line

Ask Authority to Connect Eastern Cities to Nuclear Power Plants

Three Wisconsin utilities have applied for authority to construct the necessary facilities for a new 62-mile transmission line from north of Appleton to south of Fond du Lac, the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin announced Frday.

The proposed $5,375,807 project would be built by Wisconsin Electric Power Co., Milwaukee; Wisconsin Public Service Corp., Green Bay, and Wisconsin Power and Light Co., Madison.

The companies' applications state that the new facilities are necessary to link the Point Beach and Kewaunee Nuclear Power Plants with east Wisconsin cities served by the utilities.

The Point Beach Plant is being built near Two Rivers by Wisconsin Electric and Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., Appleton. Wisconsin Public Service Corp. and Wisconsin Power and Light Co. are constructing the Kewaunee Plant with Madison Gas and Electric Co.

The proposed line also will help provide an alternate means for sending power from the Point Beach Plant to the Milwaukee area.

According to the applications, Wisconsin Electric Power would build interconnection facilities at its North Appleton Substation in the Town of Freedom, Outagamie County. Wisconsin Public Service would construct 40 miles of 345 000-volt transmission line from North Appleton to a point southwest of Oshkosh in the Town of Nekimi.

From there Wisconsin Power and Light would continue the line 22 miles south to its South Fond du Lac substation. At South Fond du Lac the proposed line would connect with another line now being built south to the Milwaukee area.

The new line and interconnection facilities are expected to be completed in 1971.

LU Nominates 4 for Travel Fellowships

University Among 25 Selected for Grant Program

Lawrence University has been selected as one of 25 colleges and universities across the nation for participation in a traveling fellowship program sponsored by the Thomas J. Watson Foundation. The program will provide a year of independent study and travel abroad for 50 college graduates of outstanding promise.

The grants will be awarded annually by the foundation, which was established in 1961 as a charitable trust by the late Mrs. Thomas J. Watson Sr., in memory of her husband, the founder of International Business Machines Corporation.

Fellows will be chosen from among candidates nominated by the 25 participating institutions. The 50 winners, whose names will be announced in March, will be chosen from among approximately 100 nominees — four from each school.

Lawrence nominees and their majors are Ronald Broomell, Minocqua, music education; Steven Ponto, Neenah, economics; Howard Sell, Appleton, Spanish; and William Peck, Cotuit, Mass., classics.

All students in their initial graduate year, regardless of their career plans, may take part in the program. Fellowships will carry stipends of $6,000 for single students and $8,000 for those who are married.

The graduates selected will be able to devise their own programs of travel and study, and pursue them with considerable independence. They may choose to develop further their knowledge in previous fields of study or to explore new areas of interest. In either case, it is hoped that, in the process, the people selected will significantly increase their potential in the career paths of their choice.

In selecting the winners, explained Robert O. Schulze, executive director of the Foundation, consideration will be given to whether the student's long-term career development would be substantially enhanced through participation in the program.

"Although over-all academic records and extracurricular activities will be taken into account, the principal selection criteria," Dr. Schulze emphasized, "will be the individual's potential for leadership and excellence in his chosen field."

2-Day Suspensions For 2 Policemen

Fail to Comply With Rule on Residence in School District

Two Appleton policemen have been suspended for failure to comply with a requirement that they live within the Appleton Public School District.

Patrolmen Patrick R. Amerson, 27, and Bruce R. Peirson, 37, were notified by Police Chief Earl O. Woltt on Friday that they have been suspended for two days without pay.

Peirson's suspension is effective March 6 and 7, and Amerson will be off work March 4 and 5.

The men, both assigned to the traffic bureau, said this morning they had not yet decided if they would appeal the suspensions to the Fire and Police Commission.

Changed Residences

Peirson, who joined the police department May 9, 1966, lives on Outagamie County Trunk J near County Trunk C, on route 1, Seymour. Amerson, a policeman since Aug. 29, 1966, lives near Meade Street and Rock Road, north of Appleton.

Peirson lived on route 3, Appleton, when he started on the force, and Amerson lived at 1720 W. Spencer St.

When the men joined the department, Fire and Police Commission rules required all policemen to live within the city limits or move there by the end of the one-year probationary period.

However, on June 5, 1967, the Fire and Police commission amended the previous order, and allowed policemen to reside within the school district.

Out of District

In September 1968, Peirson moved from route 3, Appleton, to his present route 1, Seymour address, which Wolff noted ". . . is further beyond the school district." Amerson moved out of the school district last Jan. 11.

The police department's grievance committee had discussed the pending suspensions against both policemen.

At a recent meeting, fire and police commissionres discussed the current residency requirement and it was decided to refer the matter to Wolff for a police recommendation.

The commission took no formal action, although several commissioners reportedly considered the present requirement "antiquated" in some respects.

At least two commissioners said they felt the rule "should be broadened."

Man Carrying Knives Given Jail Sentence

4 Weapons Found After Youth Is Stopped on Street

Donald L. Kappell, 27, 1209½ N. Oneida St., who was carrying four knives when he stopped a 17-year-old youth the night of Feb. 1, Friday afternoon was sentenced to 20 days in jail, under Huber Law.

Appleton police said that Kappell, who pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct, stopped the youth near W. Summer and N. Oneida Streets about 11:20 p.m., as the youth was walking home from work.

Kappell, according to the youth, followed him a short distance, then grabbed him by the arm and asked if he had any money. The youth broke free and ran to his home on N. Appleton Street. Kappell, according to police, followed and when he got to the youth's house, threw a knife onto the sidewalk.

No Threats

Kappell later told police he did not want money, but wanted the youth to drive him to Little Chute. Kappell reportedly did not threaten to use any of the knives.

He later walked into a service station, to use a telephone, while still armed with the knives. Kappell told police he had been drinking and had gotten into an argument with his wife before the Feb. 1 incident.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer, after conferring with an agent of the State Department of Health and Social Services, said he was imposing the jail sentence because of the fact that Kappell was carrying the knives at the time, and could have been involved in a more serious offense.

Maximum sentence for disorderly conduct is 30 days in jail, Schaefer told Kappell.

2-Year Term For Burglary

Rural Clintonville Man Admits Break-in At Black Creek Firm

A second rural Clintonville man who broke into K & B Auto Co. at Black Creek and took a new car has pleaded guilty of burglary.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer Friday afternoon sentenced John Buelow, 23, route 1, to two years in the State Reformatory. The sentence was imposed despite Buelow's attorney's plea for probation. The court-appointed attorney told the court Buelow has a drinking problem for which he would seek help.

However, Schaefer said, after reviewing a pre-sentence investigation report, that Buelow had a record of serious offenses.

David L. Breed, 21, route 2, was found guilty last Tuesday and will be sentenced March 6. He is in jail without bond pending a pre-sentence investigation.

Buelow and Breed broke into the auto agency early Feb. 5. They took a new car out of the showroom, damaging several vehicles in the process. They were taken into custody several hours later.

Outagamie County Judge Nick F. Schaefer delayed sentencing pending a pre-sentence investigation. Walters was ordered held in jail without bond.

He issued forged $30 and $40 checks Oct. 30, 1967, at the Kroger Store, 2700 W. College Ave. County authorities brought Walters here for court proceedings Feb. 19, following his release from federal prison in Minnesota.

Two Narcotics Charges

Free on Bond, Back in Jail 24 Hours Later

Freed from jail on a $1,500 bond at 5:25 p.m. Thursday, a 19-year-old Appleton youth was back in the same jail on an identical narcotics charge less than 24 hours later.

David A. Brooks, 318½ W. Atlantic St., was one of two teenagers taken into custody by Appleton detectives about noon Friday in Bayorgeon Recreation Area on Kaukauna's southeast side.

Brooks and Gordon Tawse, 19, a Lawrence University sophomore from London, England, were brought to Outagamie County Court Branch 2, late Friday afternoon.

Case Continued

Tawse, who is charged with possession of narcotic drugs on Feb. 22 and Feb. 28, is in jail under $1,500 bond. Judge Nick F. Schaefer continued his case to 8:45 a.m. Monday to allow him time to consult an attorney.

Brooks made only a brief court appearance Friday. Seemingly dazed, he would not respond when Schaefer asked him for his name. Schaefer continued his case until later Friday afternoon, but then adjourned it to Monday when Brooks still was unable to be brought from the jail.

Brooks, formerly of Kaukauna, had a preliminary hearing in Schaefer's court Thursday on a charge of possession and sale of a narcotic drug. The hearing was to have resumed Monday, when his court-appointed attorney would question a technician from the Wisconsin State Crime Laboratory.

Posted Bond

Brooks was taken into custody early the morning of Feb. 22 and had been in jail under $1,500 bond until Thursday afternoon, when he posted a surety bond.

Appleton police said they went to the Kaukauna park Friday, acting on information received from a young informant. Neither Tawse nor Brooks, who were apprehended in and near their car, offered any resistance, police said.

Authorities allege that substances found on the youths when they were searched following their apprehension Friday was mariuana. Brooks now is charged with another narcotics possession count.

Counth police, who issued Larson a traffic citation, said he was southbound, passing another vehicle, when his car went out of control and traveled more than 350 feet. Damage totaled about $200.

The cars were driven by Gregory J. Baumgart, 16, route 1, Kaukauna, and John J. Verhoeven, 54, 529 W. Lawrence St.

Mrs. Verhoeven suffered a cut nose and a bruised left elbow, while Baumgart had a cut chin. Police said the Verhoeven car was eastbound on Marquette and Baumgart was southbound on Drew.

Trial Scheduled For Golf Club Burglary Suspect

Steve Thein, 18, 724 S. Mason St., charged with burglarizing the Butte des Morts Golf Club pro shop on Feb. 15, will have a 12-man jury trial Friday in Circuit Court.

Thein pleaded innocent in Circuit Court Friday, and was released from jail on a $500 signature bond. He has been held under $1,500 bond since Outagamie County authorities caught him and another youth inside the building about 2:30 a.m. Feb. 15.

Thein was bound over to Circuit Court Feb. 25 following a preliminary hearing in Outagamie County Court Branch 2.

The second youth, also 18, was not charged with the burglary because he allegedly was acting as an informant for the Appleton Police Department.

Spring Is in the Air — and on the ground, too. Puddles of mud and pools of water that extend across the road approaching the Alicia Park shelter house give ample evidence of melting snow and warmer days, and the reflection of the sun supports forecasts of an early spring. (Post-Crescent Photo)
